The yearbook staff with great pleasure dedicates the 1973 issue of the Monarch to Mrs. Mary Morgan, for her years of outstanding work in the journalism department at Papillion High School, and for not only caring about her job as a teacher, but for caring about the students she taught.

When the students of the 1920's look back on their school days they remember the small school, a five piece band, a graduating class of about twenty, about six teachers, two basketball teams, one made up of boys and the other of girls.

But for the students of 1973, it was the days of. . .making your favorite teacher do embarrasing things on slave day, thinking up good excuses when you are late for class, teachers putting on funny skits in the gym, talking to teachers who care to listen when other people won't.

Academics

Adminstration Solves Smoking Problem

Principal, Keith Pollard visits a math classroom to view the progress of the students.

Assistant principal, Don Farley discusses the problems at PHS with faculty members.

On February 14 the first annual Career Day was held. Fifty eight speakers from various careers came and spoke to students on the opportunities and positions open to them. Among the speakers was Jeff Jordan from KMTV. The highlight of the day was when two women from Capitol Beauty School gave a special demonstration on how to cut hair using PHS students and teachers as models. Mike Logan is chairman of Career Day.

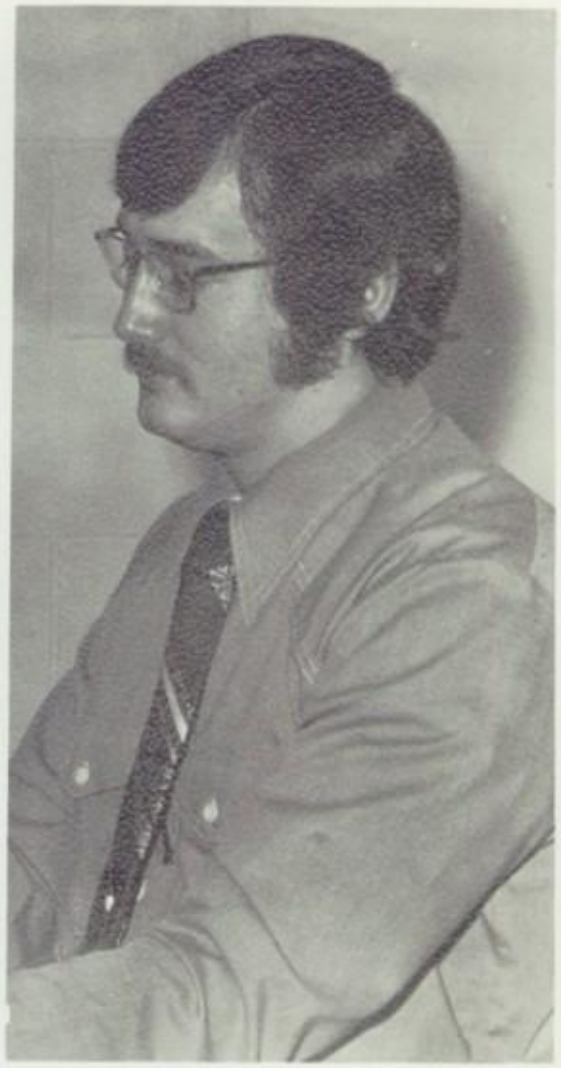
One large problem facing PHS administrators was the smoking problem in the girls' restroom. The problem was solved within a two week period. During the two weeks no girl was allowed in the restrooms without a pass from a teacher, except between classes and during lunch. Female teachers helped enforce the rule by watching the restrooms during their free periods.

Enrollment at PHS has increased 206 since May 31, 1972.

Assistant Superintendent, Stanley Wilcox, helps make the superintendent's job easier.

Paul D. Basler is the Superintendent of the Papillion Schools. One of his most important duties is the signing of important policies concerning PHS.

Glen Koca is in charge of the instrumental music classes. Here Koca gives Ted Milburn a private lesson. They are held every period but first.



Jeff Sayre looks over the list of chorus members to pick next year's small groups.

Arts, Crafts Attract Many Students

Michael Stanner watches carefully as his students fire their greenware.

Billie Rogers lends a helping hand to the office secretaries during second hour.

The instrumental music department consisted of the marching band, concert band, pep band, Dixieland band, and the German band. The audition requirements were a basic knowledge of musical term, five scales, and a Chromatic scale.

A new class added to the vocal music department was music theory. It included the study of chords, scales, transposition, and harmonization. This class was mainly for the more advanced music students.

The art classes ranged from Art I to Art IV. And they were open to all ninth through twelfth grade students. An arts and crafts class was started for students not planning to make a career out of art. A recommendation by Stanner was the requirement for this class.

Counselor, David Wilson looks up a student's file before an appointment with him.

Counselor, John Miller helps seniors choose what colleges are best for their needs.

Ron Siske, driver education teacher enjoys a cup of coffee out of his favorite mug.

Mini Courses Held 1st Semester

Counselor, Gary Lubberstedt checks over a student's work release sheet.

Media co-ordinator Curtis Linse puts identification numbers on all equipment that is checked out of the audio-visual room.

The members of the Papillion Board of Education consisted of: Lavern Timmerman, Kenneth Shives, Raymond Lemke, Marvin Hahn, Arthur Grube, and Dave Davenport.

The last nine days of first semester this year were devoted to mini courses. The short term studies were one to two hours in length. The classes ranged from knitting to karate. Each student was required to take five hours of classes. During this nine day period open campus was in process for seniors only.

A poll was taken among the parents of the seniors to see if they would approve all year around open campus for their children, and 97% of the parents said yes to this question. The final decision of the issue was the school board's. They voted no, because the parking lot is too small and there would be too much confusion.

Twelve New Teachers Are Added

Keeping school affairs in order are the secretaries, left to right: Mrs. Iris Hewitt, Mrs. Mary Poretti, Mrs. Duveen Russell, Mrs. Linda Spearman, and Mrs. Mary Kellett.

This year Papillion High School added twelve new teachers to it's teaching staff. And at one time during the year there were nine student teachers, which is a record.

PHS faced a budget problem which was caused by the high number of students attending PHS and the low amount of taxable property. About 31% of the students were listed on the honor roll first semester.

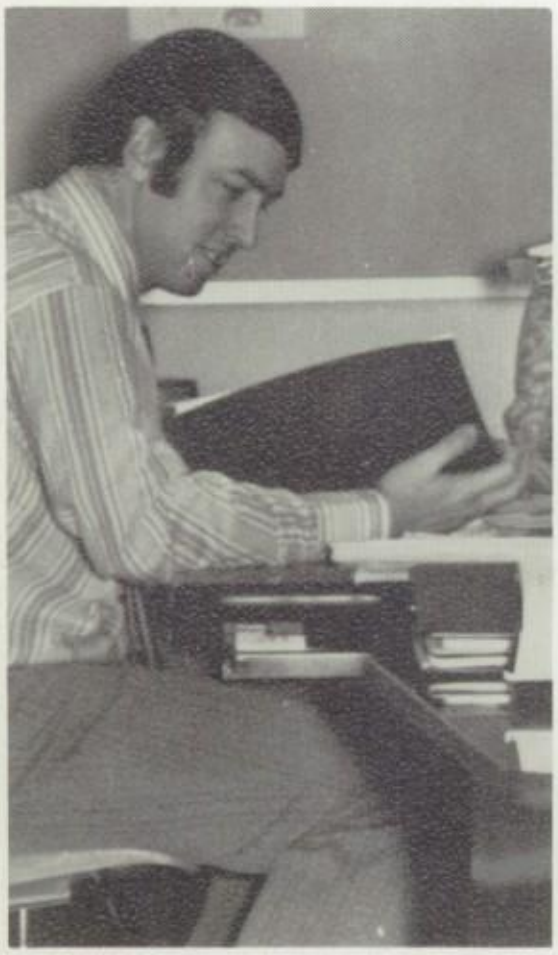
The library was opened from 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. during school days. Members of the Library Club were on hand to assist students who were in need in help.

One of Mrs. Linda Zanarini's jobs as librarian is the repairing of damaged books.

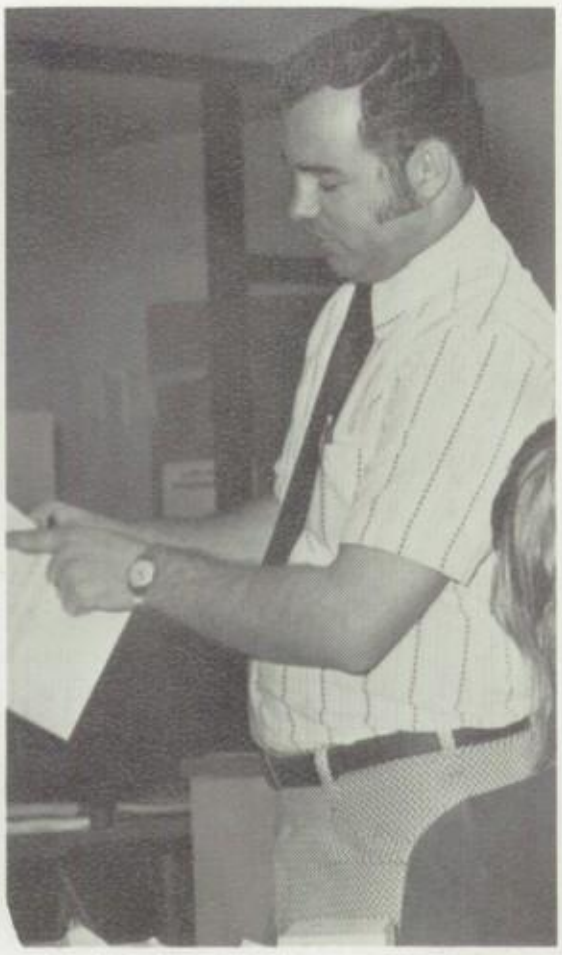
When not taking care of a cut finger Mrs. Jo Villwock is busy keeping up her files.

Dennis Smith is assistant principal in charge of all athletics and activities.

Establishments Employ Co-op Students



Looking up the answer to a general business problem is Robert Rahe.

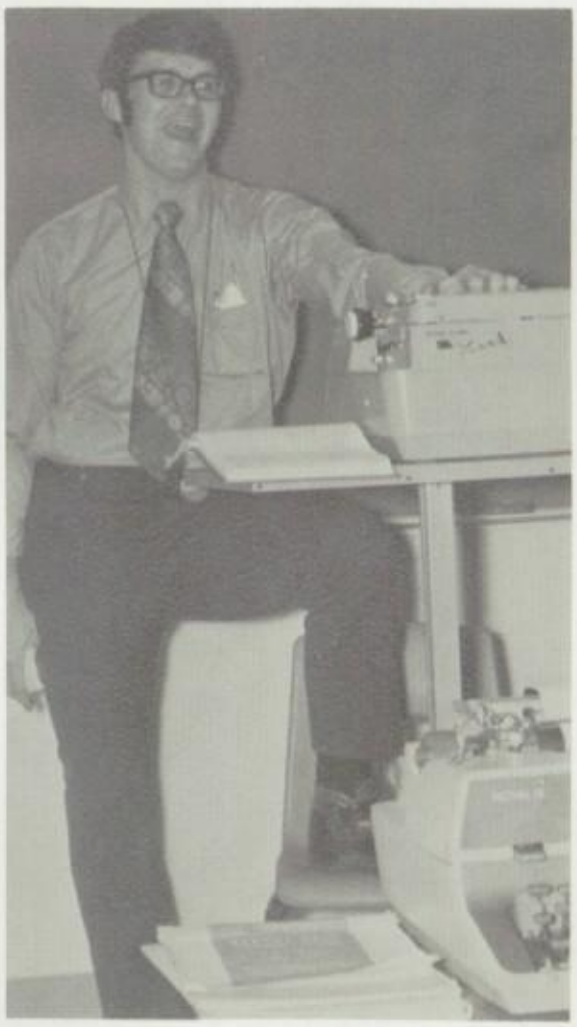


Mike Logan explains the responsibilities of the people engaged in distribution of products in a competitive society.

Clerical practice is related to the Co-op program and instruction was highly individualized to meet the needs as they arose during the on-the-job training.

Cooperative was open to seniors who were enrolled in a related class. It was partly classroom instruction and partly practical experience. School credit is given for both parts.

The clerical and secretarial practice classes went on a field trip this year to Business Service and Equipment to see Co-op student, Bev Murphy in action. Other establishments where Co-op students were employed are: Tara Food, Grants, Dumplings, King's Food Host, and K Mart. Department head is Mike Logan.



John McVicker demonstrates his favorite typing position to his Typing I class.

Mrs. Mary Larson explains the requirements of a good secretary to April Steiger.

Mrs. Bessie Schroder watches her shorthand students as she dictates a letter to them.

Skeet Mahler shows his physical education class the correct way to play handball.

Concentrating on what new equipment is needed for the gym classes is Mrs. Linda Light.

Michelle Davies and her slave, Mel Melcher, cheerfully skip down the halls together.

New Language, PE Classes Offered

Wallace Ridenour listen as his students recite their Spanish assignment. He also teaches economics to seniors.

Mrs. Peggy Montgomery and Patty Burroughs listen as students recite their French.

All students were required to earn two credit hours in physical education during their ninth and tenth grade years. The classes met two or three times a week.

This year PE was offered coeducationally on an elective basis to all seniors and juniors. The coed students had their choice of bowling and bicycling on Monday and Tuesday or archery and horse shoes on Wednesday and Thursday. Students taking bowling were required to pay a ball and shoe fee if they were unable to supply their own.

This year at PHS three years of both Spanish and French were offered. Emphasis was placed on oral learning. And two credits could be acquired from each class.

Speech Classes Give Announcements

Mrs. Ann McClay uses Holly Long as a model during the theatrical make up mini class.

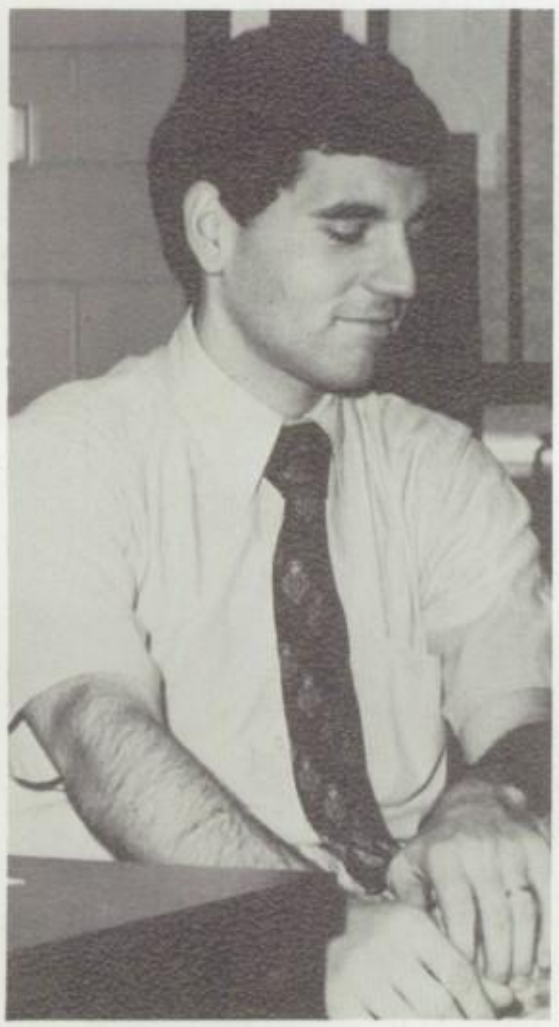
Could this possibly be speech teacher Douglas Hobel receiving an obscene phone call?

Students entered in the speech classes were in charge of giving the announcements third and sixth hours. They were also required to give demonstration speeches and pantomimes. Sophomores are required to take one semester of speech, but it is also offered as an elective. The other semester included American literature and composition.

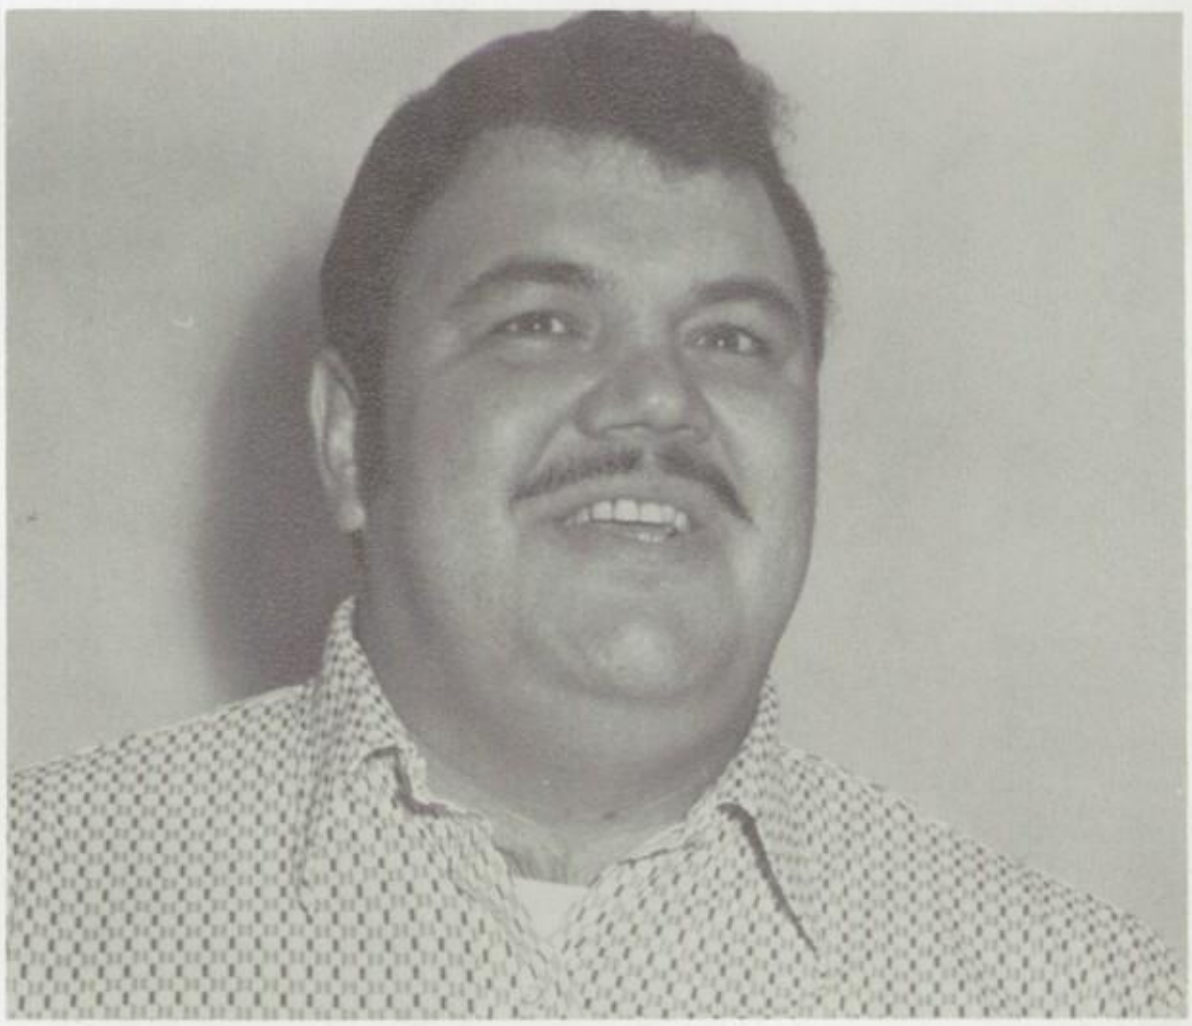
In the first week of April the sixth hour drama class gave a one act play in the pits called "The Monkey's Paw." The cast of characters included: Karrie Gallagher, Noel Marsh, Alan Ness, Charles Gerhart, and Mike Terlow.

The journalism classes worked many long hours putting together the "Scepter" and the "Monarch". This year journalism was open to sophomores, juniors, and seniors.

The communication skills program is for the student who doesn't plan on going to college.



Dave Schofield happily thinks of the day when his freshmen students will be sophomores.

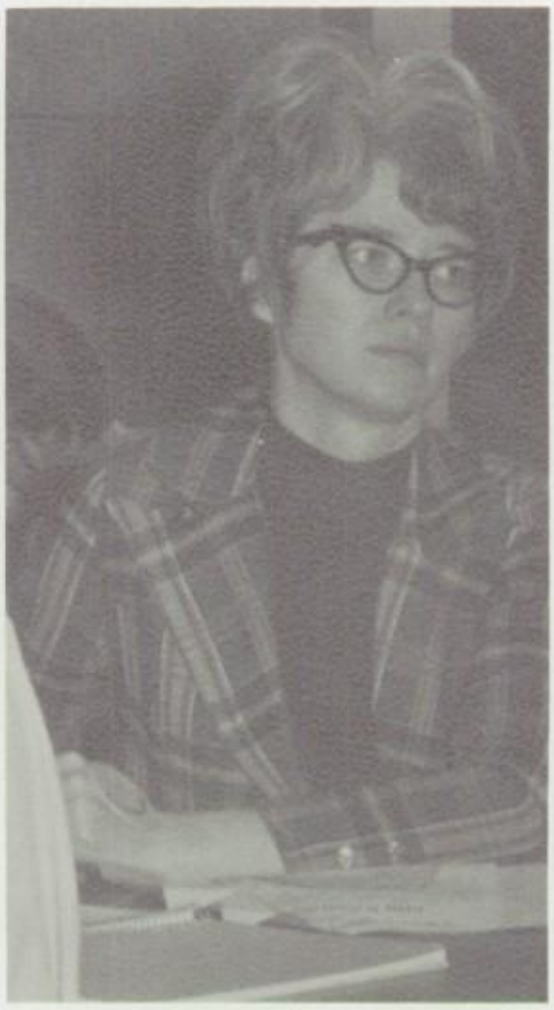


Paul Limas is in charge of the communication skills program at Papillion High School. The class involves complete individualized studying.

Mrs. Mary Morgan explans to her beginning journalism students how to load and unload the school camera. She also teaches advanced journalism and composition.

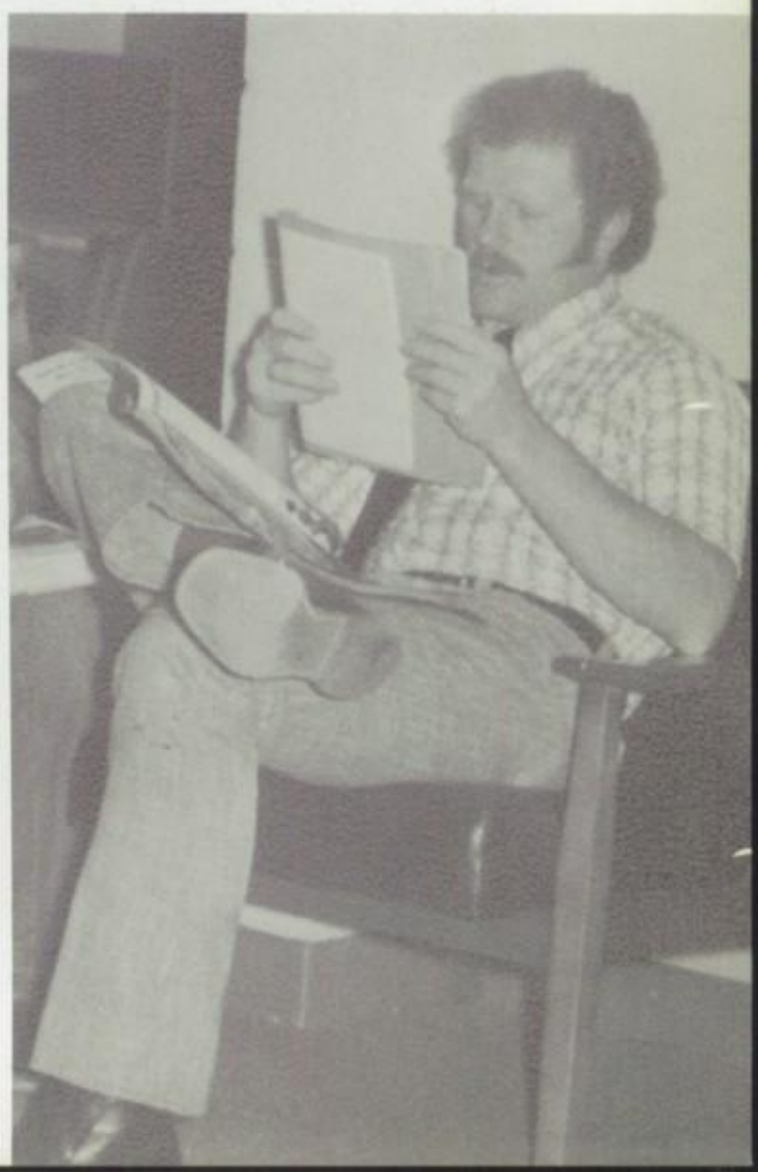
Mrs. Violet Hueton encourages her composition students to enter their stories in some of the writing contests offered to them.

Michael Goff examines some newspaper copy before it is cut and pasted up.

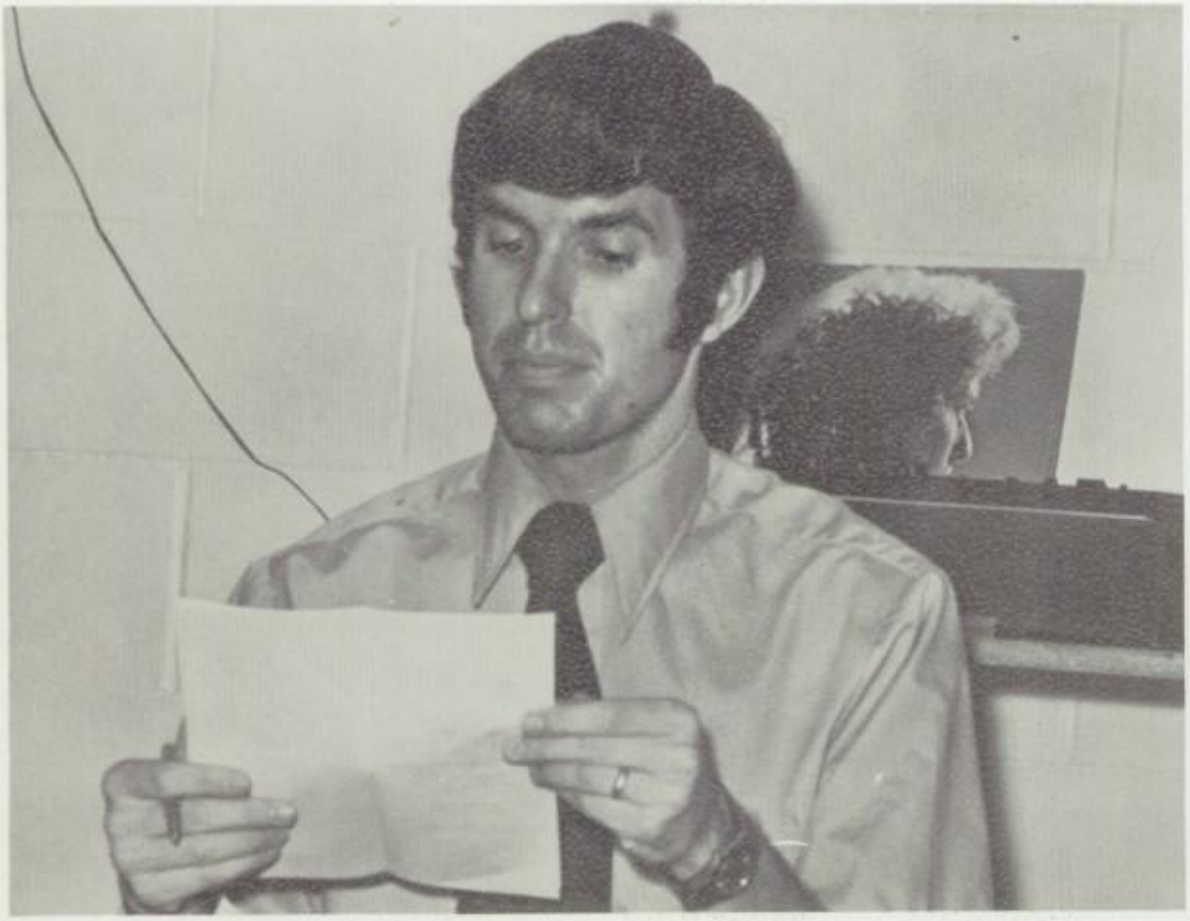


Mrs. Barbara Reed helps her world literature class review for a test on the Odyssey.

Reggie Yates, communication skills teacher, relaxes during his free period.



Speaker Tells Students About Insurance

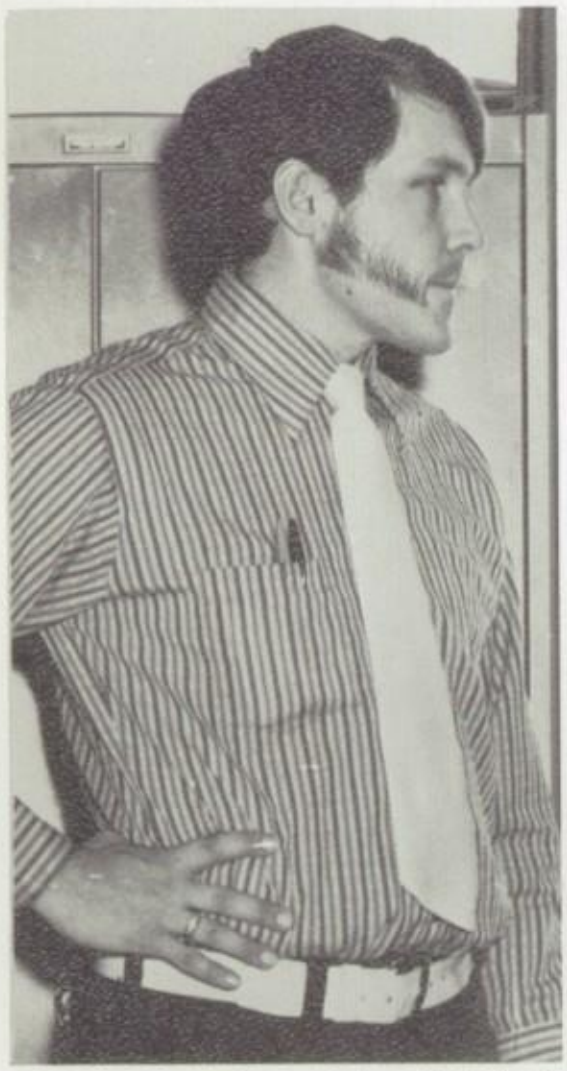


Looking over the seating chart to see if any of his students are absent is Dennis Beckman. He teaches Algebra I, Algebra II, and senior math.

Heading the math department this year was Thomas Patras. Jerry Jeffler from State Farm Insurance came and spoke to math students on the different kinds of insurance and the types people their own age should be interested in.

Patty Burroughs and Dave Fergeson won second place in the Math Relay that was held in Nebraska City.

Paula Hackney gets ready to apply her eyeshadow during the mini-course modeling class.



Jim Thomas watches as his math students work on the day's assignment.

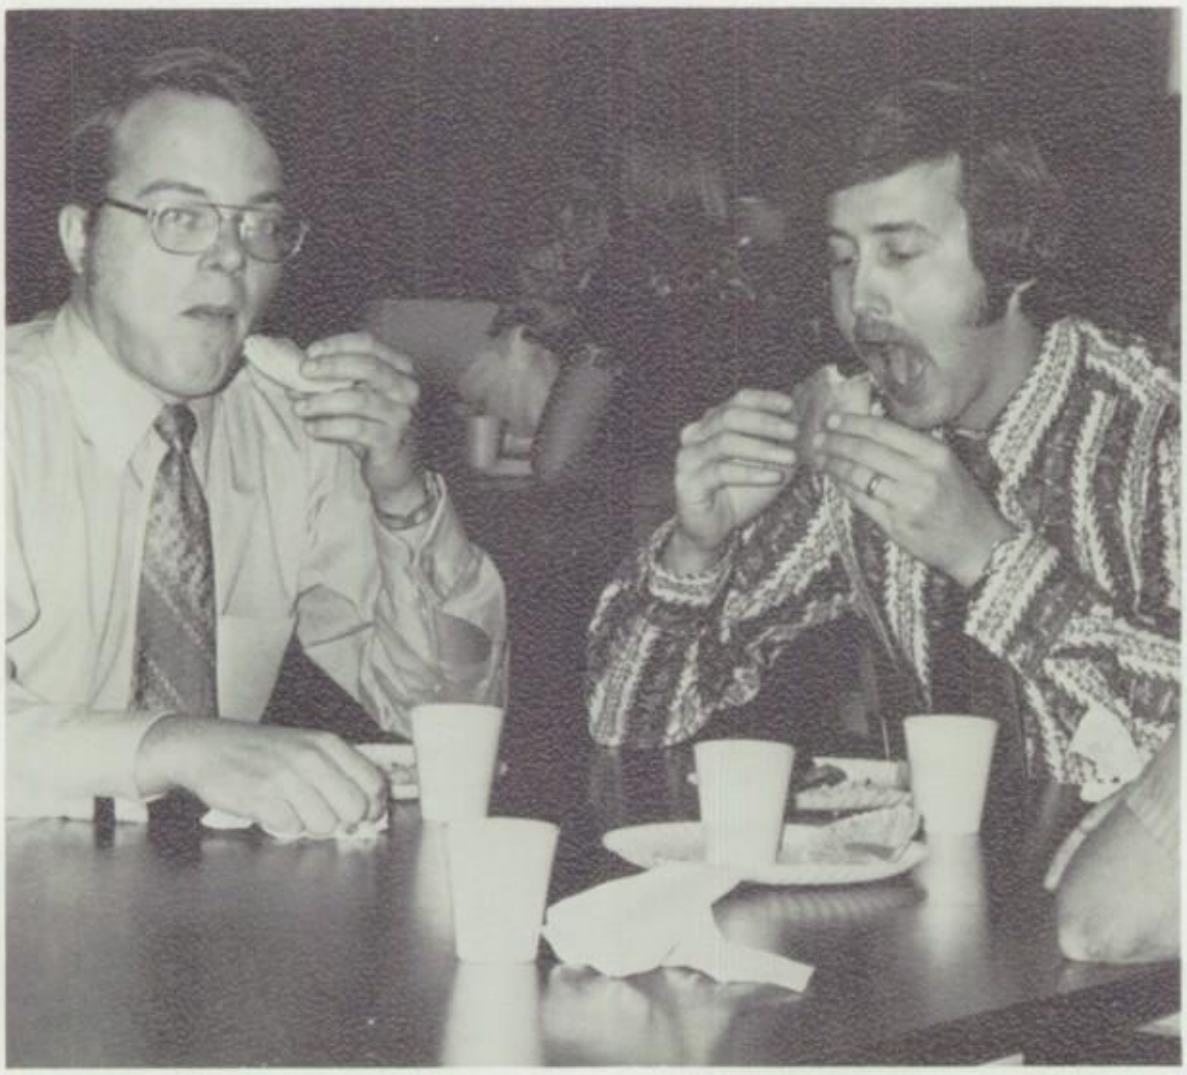
Thomas Patras takes time to explain an algebra problem to Curt Nunn.

Teaching algebra, I.M.E., and physics is Mrs. Carol Robbinson.

Everyday there is a special project done in Arno Neben's vocational math class.

Mrs. Judy Thompson staples tests together for her geometry and pre-algebra classes.

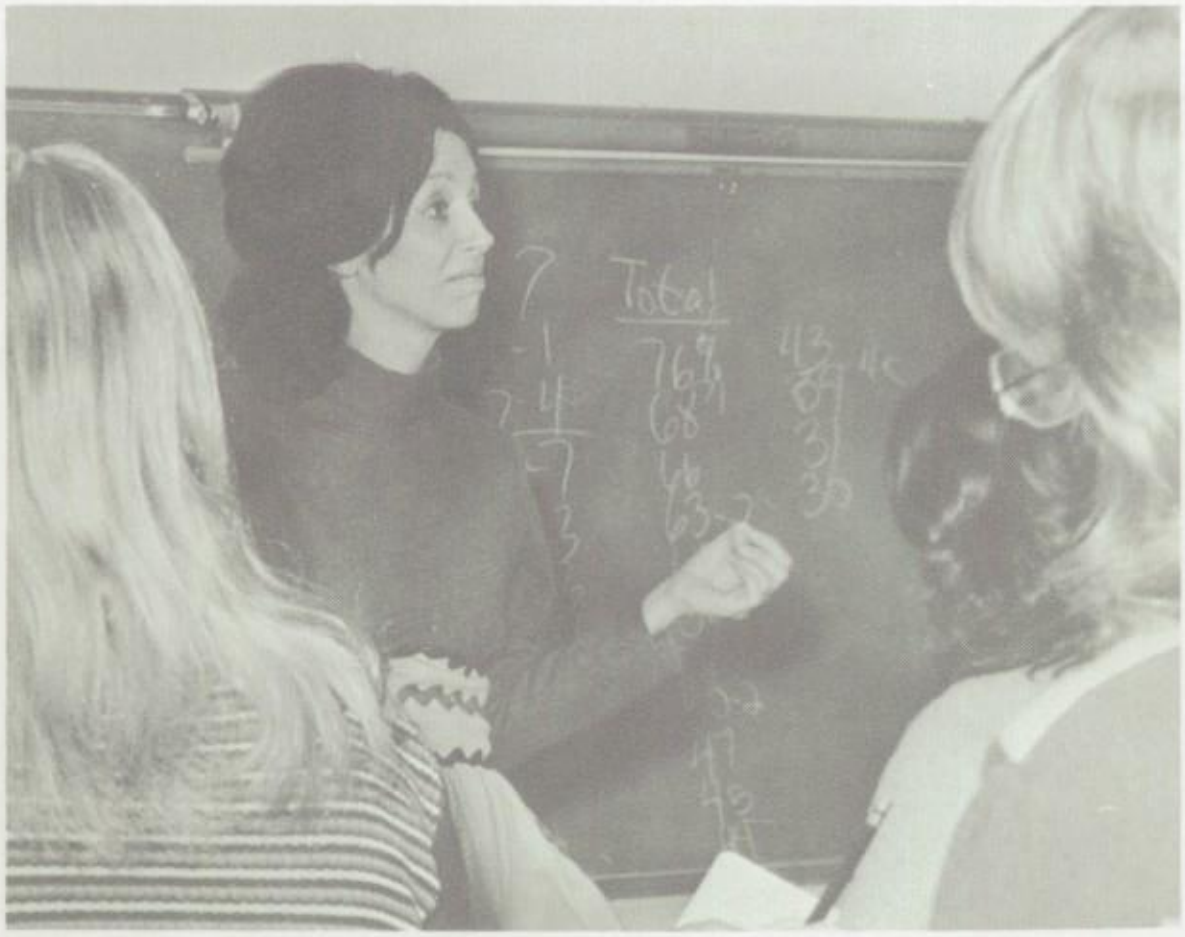
Mrs. C.J. Oborn takes time out from her math class to say cheese for the camera.



Larry Kaiser and Jeff Sayre enjoy a sloppy jo, pop, and cookies at the Halloween luncheon given by the Home Economics Club.

Mel Melcher tries not to laugh as his picture is taken for the yearbook. He teaches consumer's math and Algebra I.

History Classes Play War Games



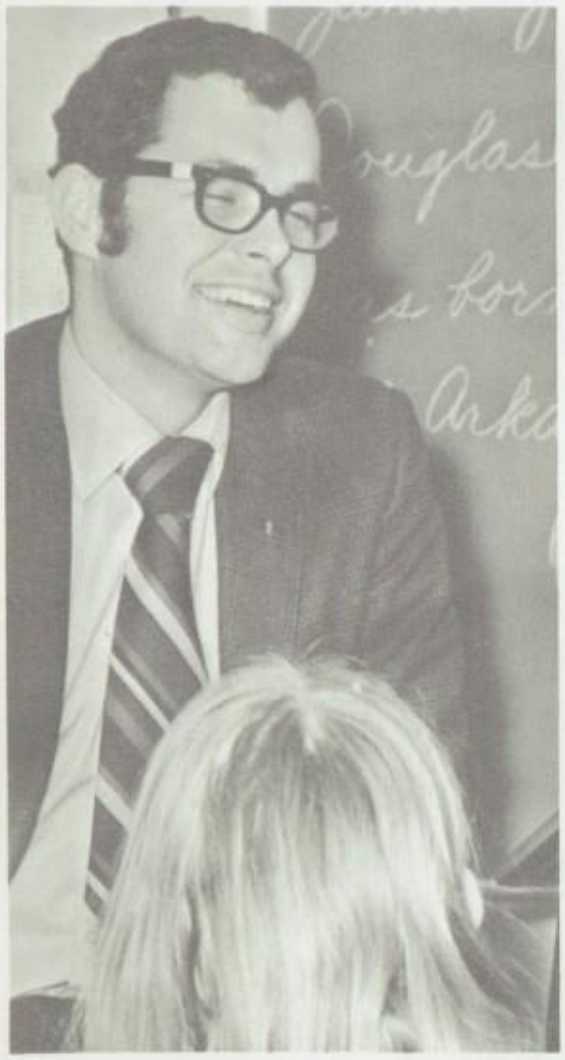
Mrs. Janice Heimark discusses the contributions of the Moselm world to her civilization class. She also teaches American government fourth and seventh hour.

American history classes played a war game this year called "Dangerous Parallel." It put the students in the position of making decisions concerning war. It also gave the students the experience of living with the decisions that they made.

In September, the government classes went to see the movie, "The Candidate." They had a variety of guest speakers which included, Pat Cooney, a Democrat candidate for Congress, Representative John Y. McCollister, and U.S. Senator Carl Curtis.

Senior seminar classes traveled to Western Electric to find out what kind of job opportunities the 42 acre plant had to offer.

The fourth and fifth hour sociology took a survey to rank occupational prestige in La Vista and Papillion.



Michael Jinks jokes around with his geography students before class begins.

Teaching American history and the senior sociology classes is Mrs. Linda Bennett.

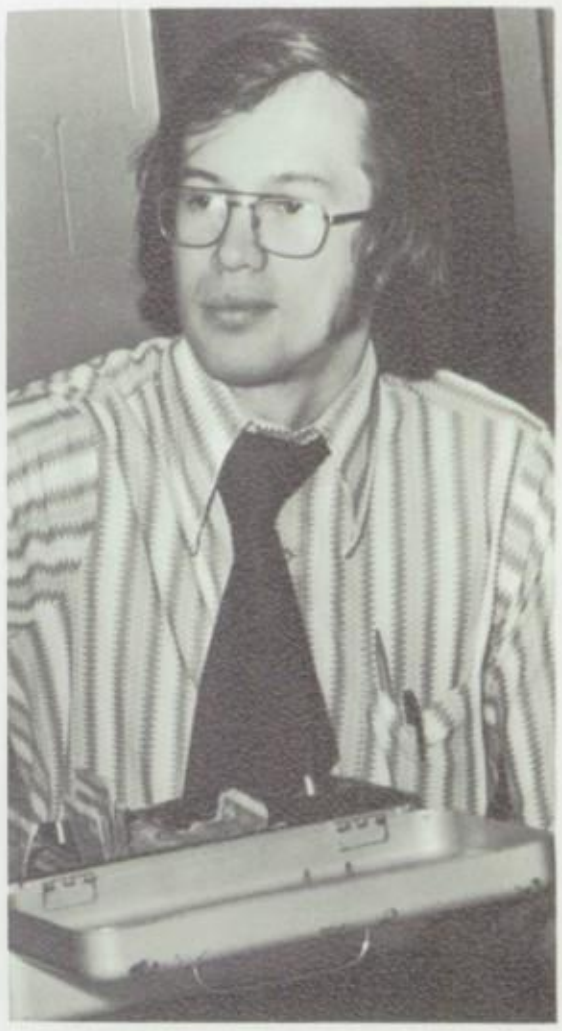
Sophomore Steve Smay concentrates while taking an American history test.

Mrs. Emily Wilt lectures on the role of the United States in world affairs to her American history class.

Larry Kaiser silently watches his students while they take an American history test. He also teaches senior seminar in social studies.

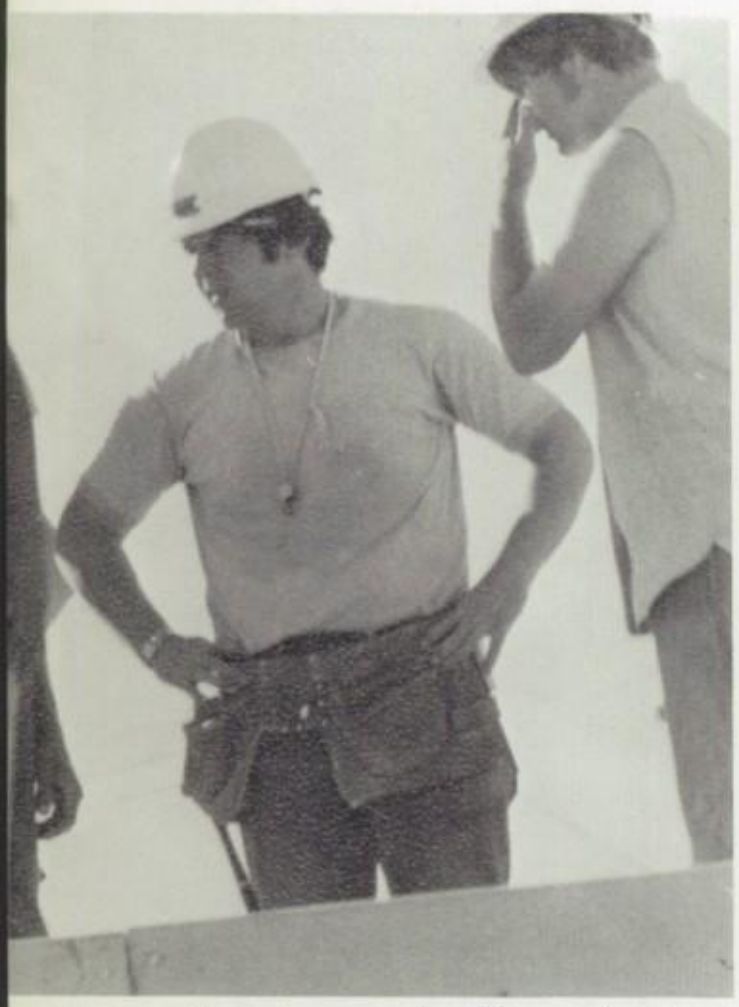
Lonnie Matz shows a world geography student how to understand and use a map.

Miss Pam Haviland supervises the painting of a wall mural in her anthropology class.



When not teaching history Ron Withem helps out the school by taking money at the door during basketball games.

Carpentry Class Builds Three Houses



Jim Hanson supervises his carpentry class as they begin to build a house in LaVista.

Nick Nigro demonstrates to his hand woods class how to sand wood nice and smooth.

This year some Westside students participated in the vocational carpentry class at PHS. There were three classes and each competed with the other to get their houses finished. The three classes were called: the Blue Devils, Yellow Jackets, and Red Barons. Framing, roofing, masonary work, and finishing were some of the areas included in the carpentry class. All the houses that they built are sub-contracted with C. G. Smith.

The vocational carpentry classes were the first to build three houses simultaneously in Nebraska. This class is the only on at PHS that is a two hour block. It is designed to give the students on-the-job training in carpentry.

James Inness, T&I instructor takes a short break for an in-between class snack.

Michael Williams helps students design their houses for architectural drawing.

Perry Ebmeier stresses the correct way to operate different power machines.

Miss Janie Botsch shows how to iron shirts smoothly without scorching.

Mrs. Doris Harder helps two little girls with their creative ability in playschool, which is part of the child development class. She also teaches family living and foods.

Bachelor Living Is Offered To Boys

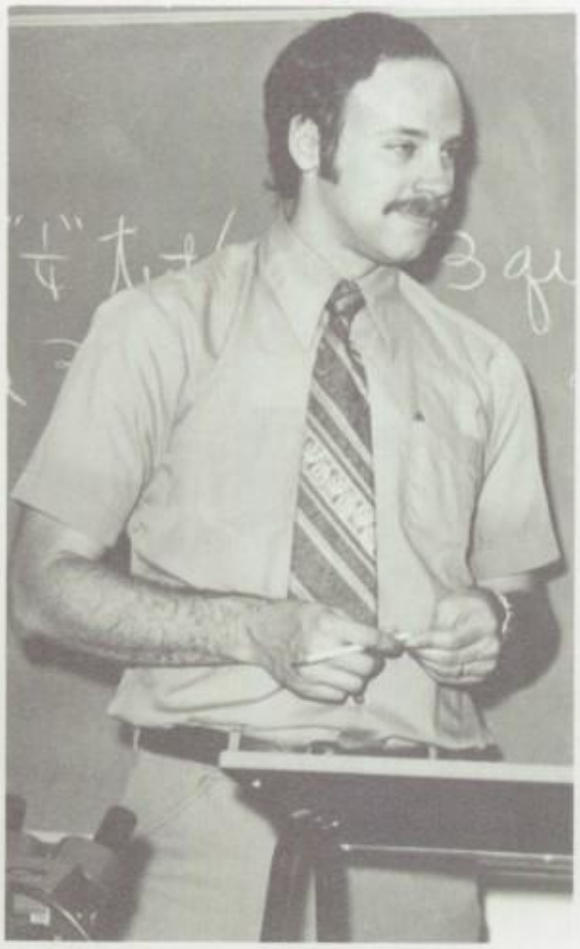
Senior Steve King practices sewing a straight line on a sewing machine before he begins his bachelor living class project.

"Just think Brad with all these recipes, we'll make some girls real happy housewives."

For the first time this year boys were allowed to take part in home economic classes. The classes offered to the boys were family living and bachelor living. Bachelor living was concerned with food preparation, clothing repair, laundry, home care, and household finance. It was open to sophomore and junior boys only.

Family living was for senior boys and girls. The class covered the topics of home and family planning, and marriage. A special project of the class was a trip to Methodist Hospital to see the film, "The Birth of a Baby."

New Freshman Class Is Added



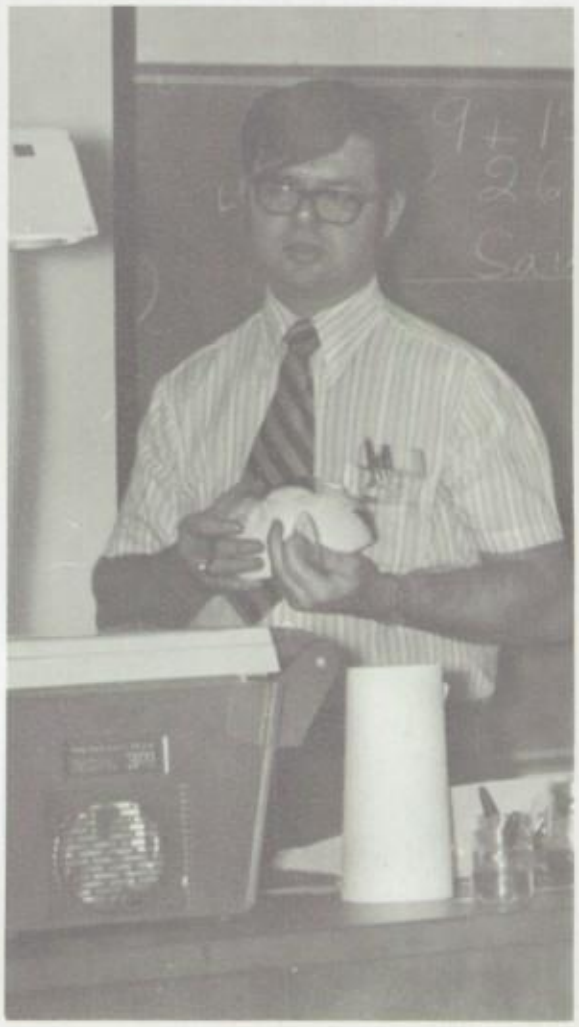
A new instructor, David Jellen, gives one of his famous grins to his biology class.

Leonard Allgood teaches chemistry and physical science, besides being department head.

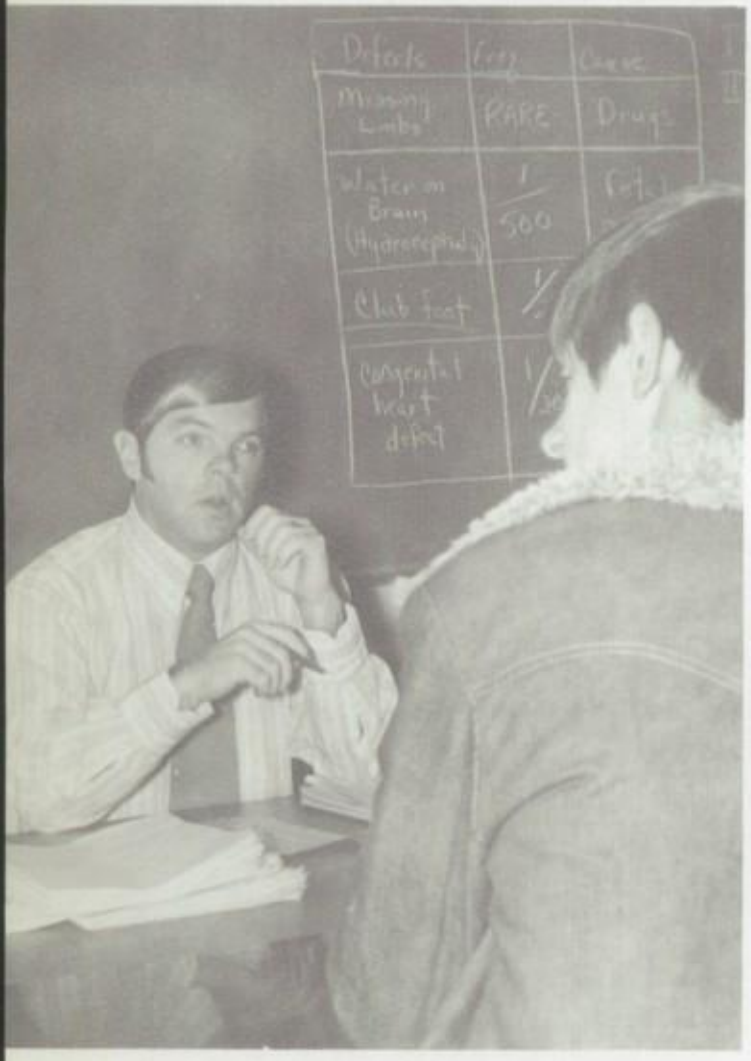
Drugs, population and abortion were just some of the topics discussed in the new freshman science class called environmental science. One of the class projects was sampling a sollution in the Papillion area.

In chemistry laboratory, experiments were done a few times a week to strengthen the student's knowledge of the scientific method. They are also done to increase his qualitative and quantitative thinking.

Required courses were physical science for ninth grade and biology for tenth grade students. Science electives included: chemistry, physiology and physics.



Carlton Rhoten biology and physiology teacher, explains the parts of the human eye.



Dennis Hanson helps a physical science student find the volume of a cube.

Science is Rich Kempnich's field, and Monarch basketball proves an exciting diversion.

Julieta Rochet's hobbies are drawing, painting, swimming, and reading.

Enjoying a lunch of chicken and mashed potatoes in the cafeteria is Thierry Taylero.

Monica Chaves is confused because everyone is always in such a hurry at PHS.

Exchange Students Are New to PHS

Brigitta Henke wants to learn to type, sew, and cook while she is in America.

Monica Klien smiles as she dreams of the good old days in her home in Peru.

Brigitta Henke prefers to be called Bigi. She comes from Hamburg, Germany. Bigi is staying with the Donald Schwer family. Her trip to America was made possible through "Youth for Understanding.

Julieta Rochet comes from Gaian Goies, Brazil. She is seventeen-years-old and is staying with the Roland Timmerman family. One difference that she has noticed is that in America there is St. Valentine's Day, where as in Brazil there is not.

The eighteen-year-old Monica Chaves is from Bogota, Columbia. And is residing at the home of Earl Krueger. She is alto in the mixed chorus and a member of Pep Club.

Monica Klien is staying with the William Dengates family. She is a sophomore and is from Lima, Peru.

Thierry Taylero is from Brazil. He is fifteen-years-old and in the 10th grade. He is staying with the family of Leslie Naser.

. . .going on hayrack rides, the band performing in Vienna and winning the city's crystal vase for overall excellence in competition, the OSACS choir going on a tour through Europe, Lettermen patrolling the halls during lunch, new Honor Society members wearing dunce caps, the Pep Club taking up half of the gym during the games, getting out of class for a club meeting when you're having a test, spending hours decorating for dances and banquets only to have it be torn down in a few minutes,

Activities

New Club Provides Half-Day Jobs

The award winners from the state convention, held at the Prom Town House in Omaha, are: Pat Skinner, Linda Penning, Paula Hill, Tony Fletcher, Don Rowe and Joe Batson.

Deca is a new club at Papillion this year. It has a long and fancy name — Distributive Education Clubs of America — all which means that these students work in business one half a day. The one requirement of Deca is that you take the Marketing and Merchandising class.

Members know what they do at work and school will soon become a paycheck. Then there's that all important state and national convention and the big outcome — the hope of winning the award.

Some of the projects for Deca are selling Nebraska and Papillion clothing bags, co-sponsoring the 60's sock-hop, Halloween party at the Papillion Manor and State Leadership Conference.

Officers this year are: President Nancy Karlik, Vice-president Don Rowe, Secretary Debbie Lundgren and Treasurer Joe Batson.

Mike Logan sponsors and helps the students with any problems they have.

Deca members Becky Swarbrick and Kathy Trible have more talent than people think!

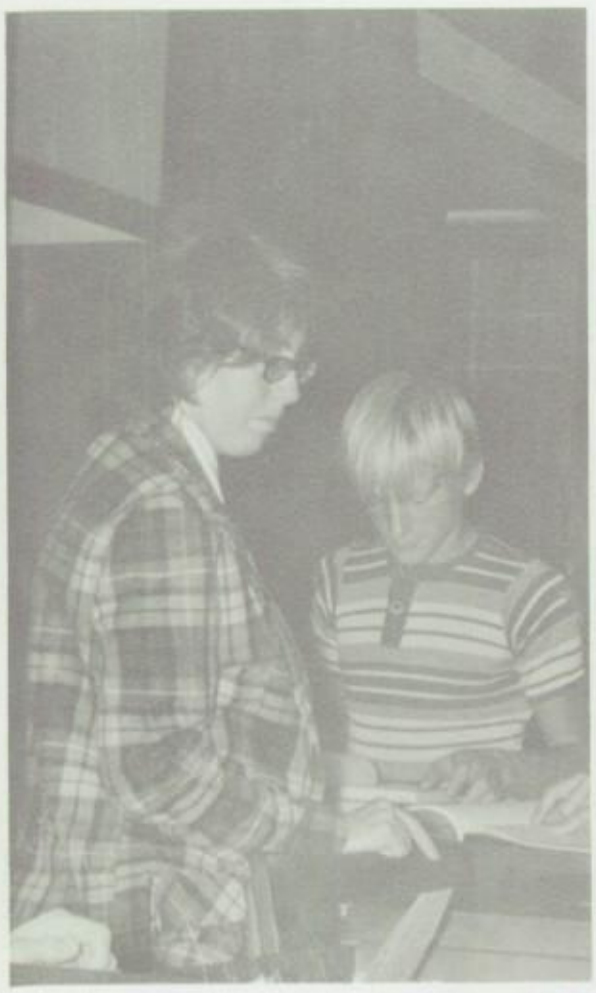
Fergason, D. Brannon, J. Becker, M. Penning, D. Zadina, C. Christian. Last row: J. Bellanti, G. Dixon.

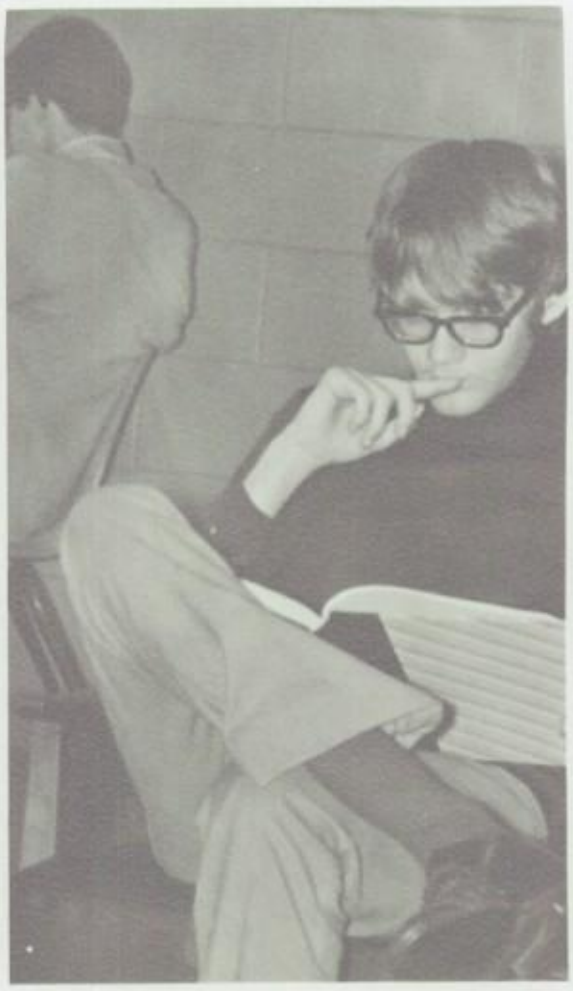
Library club isn't just for the bookworms of the school; they must check books in and out, file cards and put books in their right places.

Again this year, they sponsored the Slave Day. A total of $391 from the sale and sock-hop went for buying new books.

Mike Augustus takes time to catch up on the juicy news from the Papillion Times.



Mrs. Linda Zanarini helps John Earnest find the magazine he needs for his report.



George Miller seems to have found a quiet time in the library to do some studying.

Don Ruff, a professional auctioneer, tries his hardest to sell Mike Stanner.

Debbie Snodgrass serves coffee and brownies to Miss Janie Botsch and Mrs. Jacque Gaebel at the parent-teacher conferences.

Debbie Evers helps a little second grader read as one of FTA's projects.

After 11 or 12 years of being taught, of watching teachers teach you, members of the pedantic group are thinking and planning on becoming teachers themselves.

What better way to be sure if teaching is right for you than to try it out yourself!

That is exactly what the members of FTA did. They taught elementary grades, helped with parent-teacher conferences, visited the J.P. Lord School, Papillion Middle School and a nursery school. They also had Principal Keith Pollard and Doug Hobel discuss preparations for a teaching certificate.

The officers for FTA are: Billie Rogers president, Sandy Boswell vice-president and Debbie Shives secretary-treasurer.

FTA is sponsored by Doug Hobel.

New Editor, Advisor for Scepter Staff

Robin Oftelie and John Hughes, of the beginning journalism class, make prints as one of their requirements.

Kathy Earnest, Pam Flemmer and Barb Sindelar start to work on the next issue.

This year's newspaper staff was made up of both advanced and beginning journalism classes.

There were two sets of leaders for journalism! First semester Mrs. Mary Morgan, advisor, and Gail Whitten, editor. Second semester Mike Goff, advisor, and George Miler as Editor.

The advanced journalism class attended a workshop at the University of Nebraska, Lincoln campus.

Broadway's Musical, "Bye Bye Birdie,"

The MacAfee family as they appeared on the Ed Sullivan Show. They are: Kim, Mr. and Mrs. MacAfee and Randolph.

"Bye Bye Birdie" was the first Broadway Musical to be held in five years. It was performed in the high school gym at 7:30 p.m. on October 20 and 21. There was a matinee at 2:00 p.m. on October 22.

"Bye Bye Birdie" is the story of a young rock singer (Conrad Birdie) who gets drafted into the Army. The title of the musical then comes from the fans (mostly young girls) saying good-by to the famous singer.

The cast included many small groups, the teen chorus, adult chorus, dancers, teen trio, cheerleaders, reporters, MacAfee family, Mayor and his wife, production staff and stage hands.

Tryouts for the musical were held on August 29 at 7:00 p.m. The judges were Doug Hobel, Mrs. Anne McClay and Jeff Sayre.

A cover contest was held to find out which art student would design the front cover of the programs. The winner was Pam Honaker.

"Bye Bye Birdie" was under the direction of Mrs. McClay, drama teacher and Jeff Sayre, vocal director.

Front row: K. Schuring, S. Ulrich, D. Snodgrass, N. Dale, R. Lorimer, J. Pruitt, C. Ward, S. Sayre, S. Miles, B. Miles. Second row: J. Kitrell, J. Timmerman, G. Timmerman, C. Robbins, M. Guerra, K. Lettermen Guard Halls During Lunch

Some new events held this year were the two faculty basketball games against the Harlem Thrillers and the Minnesota Vikings.

One of the new jobs of Lettermen's Club is patroling the halls and cafeteria during lunch. They are being paid $500 for doing this instead of having the teachers give up their lunch hours.

Officers are President Mike O'Neal, Vice-President Bob Mohr, Secretary Greg Schack, and Treasurer Don Rowe.

Tim Robertson doesn't seem to agree with the candidates for Sports Banquet.

Last Annual Sports Banquet at Papillion

"To Beat The Unbeatable Foe", the theme of the last annual sports banquet to be held in Papillion, was Saturday evening, April 14, 1973. Next year to honor 14 sports, an increase of 5 sports, there will be a fall, winter and spring award night instead of combining all together.

The guest speaker was Monte Kiffin. He is now the assistant football coach for the University of Nebraska.

Major John Hughes, president of the Papio Booster Club, was the master of ceremonies. Maj. Hughes announced the king and queen. This was the last year for this event too.

The Rev. Armin Vogt from the Methodist church gave the invocation.

Providing music were the girls triple trio and the accidentals directed by Jeff Sayre.

The waiters and waitresses were 50 freshmen boys and girls chosen by the seniors.

Relaxing from all the excitement, with their friends, the newly crowned queen, Sheryl Ulrich and Kirk Eymann, enjoy the meal.

New Sponsor Takes Over Pep Club

Janet Brown, senior representative, sells candy canes before school as one of the money raising projects for the Sports Banquet.

Pep Club's main purpose is "to show support to the various types of sports." They do this by putting up posters and providing a cheering section during the events.

Money making projects this year were running the concession stand during home games, chili feeds before the games and bake sales after school.

Pep Club sponsored: parent's nights, Homecoming dance, Sports Banquet, and a dinner for the basketball players and the wrestlers.

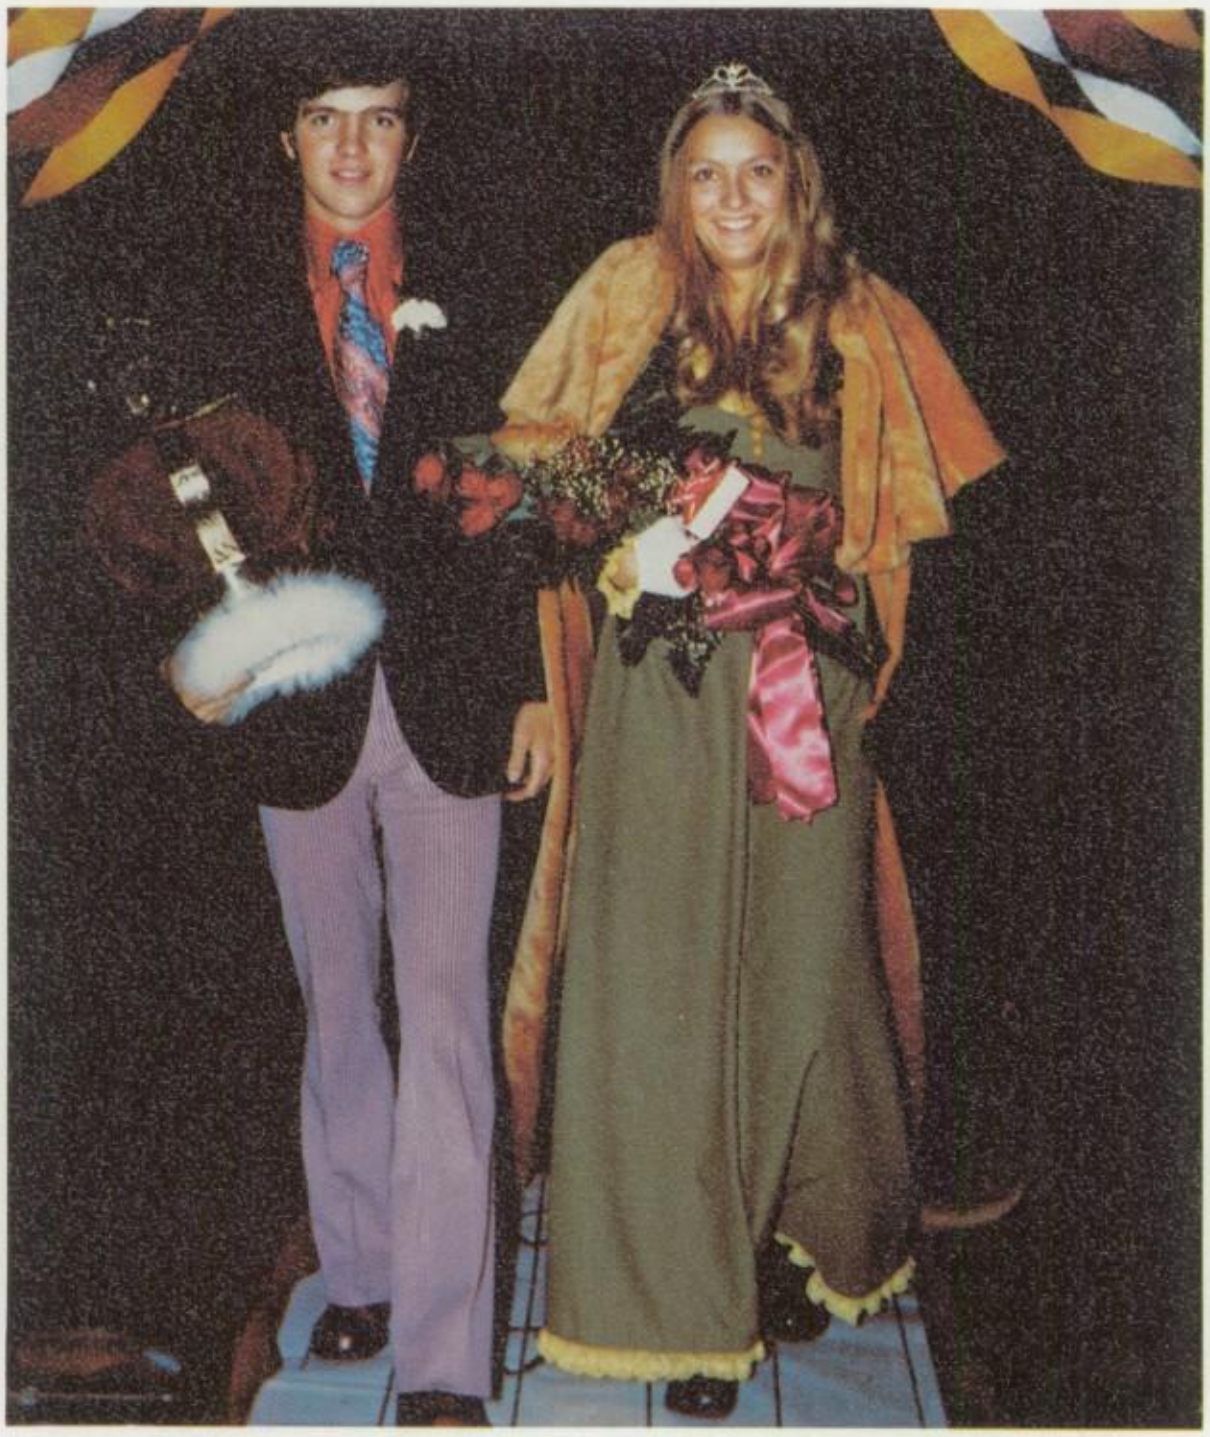
"Colour My World" In Homecoming '73



With the traditional crown, roses, and diamond tiara, the newly crowned Mike O'Neal and Kathy Earnest leave the royal throne.

Homecoming festivities concluded September with three days of celebration.

It all started Thursday evening, September 28, when the Monarch cheerleaders led the student body in a pep rally, which was followed by the burial of a Beatrice Orangeman.

The burial replaced the bonfire, held annually until the city banned open burning last year.

Preparations for the Friday coronation were made by the Drill Team. They also presented flowers to the candidates. At the coronation the candidates were introduced and Queen Kathy Earnest and King Mike O'Neal donned the traditional Monarch crown tiara.

The football game with Beatrice Friday night saw a chance to win fly by on a missed extra point, and the Homecoming contest ended in a 26-26 tie.

During halftime, the Queen and the royal candidates, except the football players, were presented to Homecoming fans in convertibles.

The culmination of the festivities was the Saturday night dance in the cafeteria. Sponsored by the Pep Club, the theme of the dance, "Colour My World," was carried throughout the room decorations as well as in the music by Cheshire Cat.

Homecoming candidates are: Front row, Mindy Reissener, Pam Flemmer, Diane Teusaw, Pam Walter, Kathy Earnest, Sheryl Ulrich and Gail Timmerman. Back row, Mike O'Neal, Dave Fisher, Darrell Rahe, Greg Schack, Larry Riley, Kirk Eymann, and Bob Mohr.

The joke is on Don Rowe, but who really did it Diane Teusaw or Mike Nunn?

Student Council Initiates Mini Courses

Ranee Lorimer shows her pucker power for student council at clubnight.

Debbie Huffman and Doug Green were selected as District Representatives.

Activities of this year's council included contributing turkeys to needy families at Thanksgiving and Christmas, buying a trophy for the winner of clubnight, helping with parent-teacher conferences, career day, setting up the mini courses which were held the two weeks after Christmas vacation instead of the semester tests and passing the suggestion of beginning an Ecology Club which only lasted a few months because of the lack of interest.

Two projects being worked on were open campus for the seniors and getting the patio started just outside the cafeteria. It will have a small court for basketball and tennis, a winter fountain with grass and sidewalks all around.

Various members attended summer workshops, the fall convention, district meetings and participated in student council exchange day, when student council members from nearby schools visited each other.

The 72-73 Council members are: front row L. Felthauser, P. Honaker, J. Hackney, C. Anderson. S. Ulrich, J. Kruger, L. Elis. Second row K. Pollard, P. Hackney, J. Timmerman, D. Green, A. Cuellar, R. Lundgren, K. Eymann, D. Warren, R. Coover, R. Hooper. Third row N. Lawler, T. Vogt, G. Timmerman, M. O'Neal, K. Earnest, G. Miller, P. Burroughs, R. Lorimor, J. Jones, L. Kaiser (sponsor). Fourth row L. Gillfoyle, D. Huffman, D. Strong, B. Miles, D. Goodman, M. Reissener, P. Flemmer, D. Snodgrass, M. Trempe, T. Earnest, C. Smith, J. Boone.

Debaters Stronger In 2nd Season

This was the second year for the debate class and again they were a strong, but young team.

Debate takes a lot more than just speaking in front of a group of people. There are long hard hours of research, organizing, practice and the final polishing up.

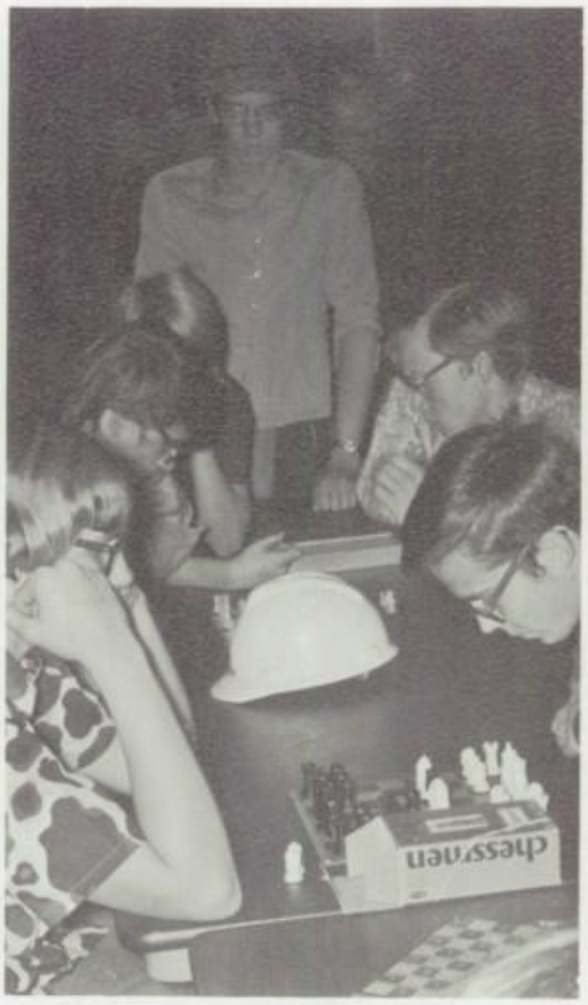
Under the coaching of Mrs. Barbara Reed, the team participated in many tournments and several of the students earned personal honors.

Debater Raymond Speer tries to win the judges over to his side.

Debate class takes a lot of planning and preparing along with being able to convince and communicate with people. Kit Schorey works hard on an assignment while Mrs. Barbara Reed gives advice.

Dan Vogt and Mike Terlow work on their debate before presenting it to the class.

Pat Purkhiser and Joe Batson put all they've got into winning the three-legged race.



Chess takes a lot of concentration and knowhow, even a carpenter can do it.

Gobbling Goff was the instigator of the teacher pie-eating contest.

Carpenters' Club Nails Lettermen

Cheryl Perkins and Jan Bellinghausen go back to those sweet childhood days of playing jacks.

The fifth annual clubnight was held on Nov. 20 in the high school gym.

Top honors were given to the carpenters with 20 points, second place Lettermen's Club with 17 points, third place was a tie between Language Club and Band, both with 14 points.

The main attraction of the night was the faculty pie-eating contest with challenger Gobbling Goff taking first place.

All events were held except for the new banana eating and egg throwing contest. These two were not held because of the lack of time.

Clubnight this year was sponsored by Student Council. Tim Vogt, along with the help of Larry Kaiser made the night run smoothly.

Home Ec Sponsors Halloween Luncheon

Home Ec Club members and faculty enjoy the Halloween luncheon.

Pam Walter, President of Home Ec Club, votes on a motion.

"To promote home economics" is the main purpose of the Home Ec club, sponsored by Mrs. Doris Harder.

Special projects planned for this year were: a party for orphans, Thanksgiving service where the club prepared the worship table and baby sitting for the guests, a hay-rack ride, Halloween party for the members and the faculty. Also held was a foreign banquet and the Senior Tea, which is an annual event.

The officers for the 1972-73 year were: President Pam Walter, Vice-President Nancy Scheer, Secretary Cheryl Dame and Treasurer Gail Whitten.

There are now 130 members of Home Ec which is an increase over last year by 30 members.

Harriet, played by Candi Robbins, gets ready for tea with Margaret.

During mini courses, many students learned the proper way to apply make-up.

Drama members, Bert Akiens and Melanie Schwer, are always putting on a show!!

Something new this year, put on by drama club, were several one act plays in the pit area. These were held for people in study hall and others that could attend.

In connection with the vocal music department, the group sponsored the showing of "Bye Bye Birdie," which was this year's musical production.

With the guidance of Mrs. Ann McClay, the group kept busy.

Foreign Foods Banquet Very Tasty

The foreign language club is made up of those students who are taking either French or Spanish. Mrs. Peggy Montgomery and Wallace Ridenour are the sponsors of the group.

The club sponsored the annual foreign foods banquet again this year as one of their projects.

Dunce Caps Worn for Initiation

New senior members are; front row: J. Brown, S. Ulrich. Second row: J. Dykstra, D. Glendenning, K. Schorey. Last row: B. Miller, D. Rahe

On Monday evening, May 14, at 7:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria, there was a banquet held in which the new members were tapped into the National Honor Society.

The new members to be initiated were told about it during school when old members presented them with "dunce caps." These were to be worn the rest of the day to show all of the student body that they had earned membership in the club.

Membership is based on scholarship, character, leadership and service. Students are selected for this honor by a vote of the faculty. The club is allowed to induct no more than 15 percent of the senior class, 10 percent of the junior class and 5 percent of the sophomore class. A minimum cumulative grade point average of 3.0 for seniors and 3.2 for juniors and sophomores is required. Mrs. Barbara Reed is the sponsor of the organization.

Junior Paula Hackney tries her "dunce cap" on for size.

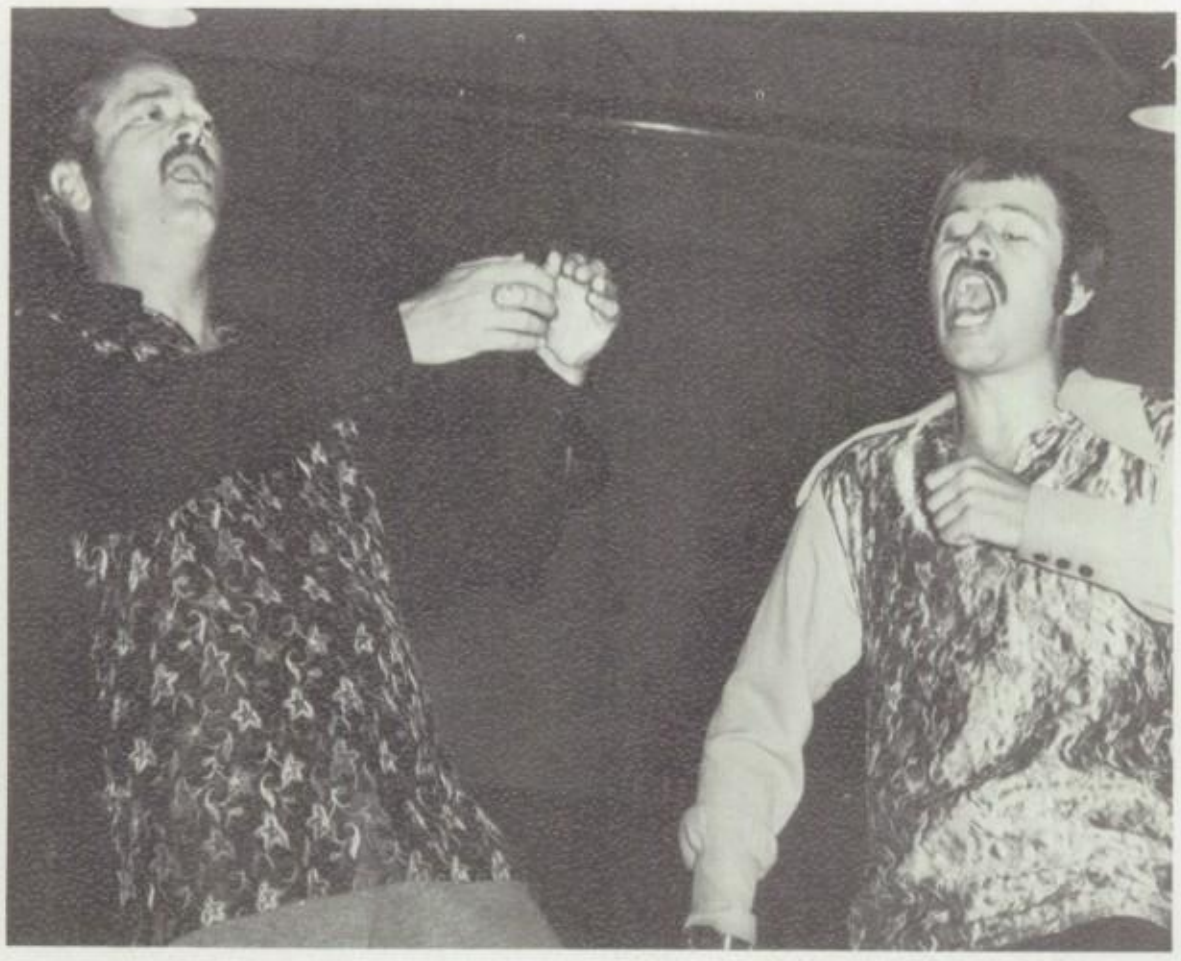
Spurrlows Leave Great Impression



The itsy bitsy spider ran up the water spout, down came the rain and washed the spider out..... some of the work of the poets, as they acted them out.

The convocations for the 72-73 year were: the Spurrlows, a rock group from New York, Oral Roberts, an ex-con, 'The History of Rock,' by KOIL with Jim Fox, and a Baptist singing group from Missouri.

Congressman John McCollister came and talked to the government classes about the duties of a congressman, Julie Nisley spoke to the Home Ec classes on planning a career in Home Economics and an Army helicopter pilot, from Fort Carson, Colorado, spoke on how the army can help you!

A later program was given by the University of Nebraska, Lincoln Opera Company. Scenes from the operas "The Magic Flute" and "Adrianna Lecouvreur" were acted out.

Bobby Van, the Spurrlows' record manager, booms out a song at practice.

Julie Nisley talks on how to pursue a career in Home Economics.

Margie Harris, the short blonde with the super voice, mingles with the crowd.

Oral Roberts speaks to the freshmen on "the way of life in prison."

Joint Heirs, a Baptist singing group from a Baptist college in Missouri, sang rock and religious songs for the Juniors and seniors.

Congressman John McCollister speaks to all of the American Government classes.

KOIL Good Guys put on "The History of Rock" from 1955-1973.

Spurrlows arouse the crowd with their fabulous music and leave another good impression on their second visit.

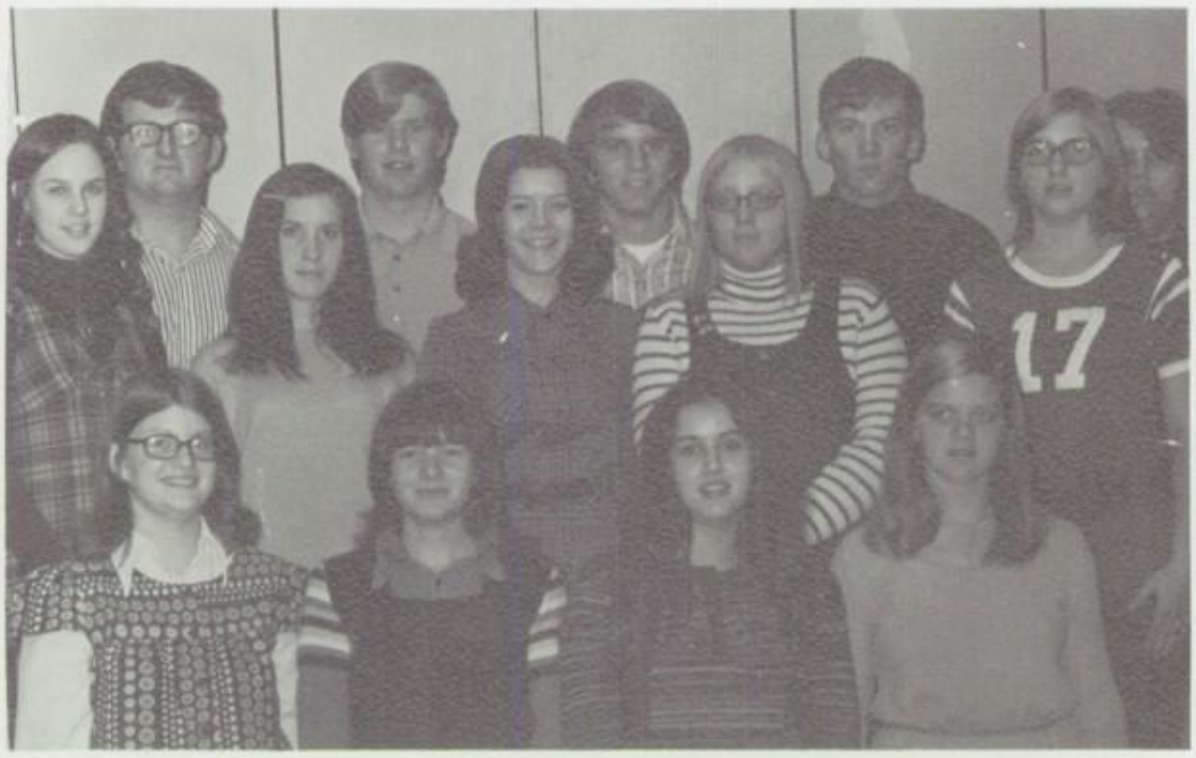
Vocal Music Takes Spring Tour



The OSACS Choir, Omaha Surburban Area Council of Schools, will be touring Europe for three weeks this summer. Other schools making the tour are Westside, Ralston, Gretna, Millard and Platteview. Members, selected by try-outs, from Papillion are, front row: Kaelene Hawley, Terri Garnette, Paula Draper, Shirley Jorgenson. Second row: Pam Walter, Lynn Vosika, Robin Oftelie, Margie Stout, Leslie Walls. Third row: Tom Miller, Noel Marsh, Tim Body, Rich Gargulinski, Peggy Beuttner.

Vocal music this year was under the direction of Jeff Sayre.

A new group for vocal music is the ninth and tenth grade swing choir. This is taking the place of the ninth grade chorus. The other groups are accapella choir, girls glee, madrigals, accidentals, girls triple-trio and the barber shop quartet.

Vocal music participated in many activities this year. A Christmas concert with both the band and vocal music, a winter "Pops" concert, music contest, spring concert, an opera trip and a spring tour.

A group known as OSACS, the Omaha Surburban Area Council of Schools, will be touring Europe for three weeks this summer.

Band Takes Trip to Vienna, Austria

Lift those legs high, higher, one, two, three, four.. Early morning practice is what makes our band the best in the state.

The 1972-73 band, under the direction of Glen Koca, has had a very busy year trying to raise enough money for them to take the band trip, across the Atlantic Ocean, to Vienna, Austria. They were one of the few bands chosen from the United States to make the journey.

There were 16 all state band members selected from Papillion. They were selected on how they memorized solos and scales and performed the music before several judges.

The band received three superior ratings from the Peru State College Homecoming Festivities, they won the Class A Division Trophy from Plattsmouth Invitational Marching Band and Contest and at the Nebraska High School Marching Band Festival at Pershing Auditorium, the Papillion band, for the seventh year in a row, received a superior rating.

Art club members have entered many projects in several contests. They had an art display at the night of fine arts and one of the money making projects for this year was selling ceramics.

Field trips this year were going to the Brandies Art Show and to Joslyn to see the Norman Rockwell show.

Any art student is eligible for membership.

Officers for art club are Gary Dock president, Keith Clester vice-president, Laura Draper secretary and Janet Brown treasurer.

Mike Stanner is the art club sponsor.

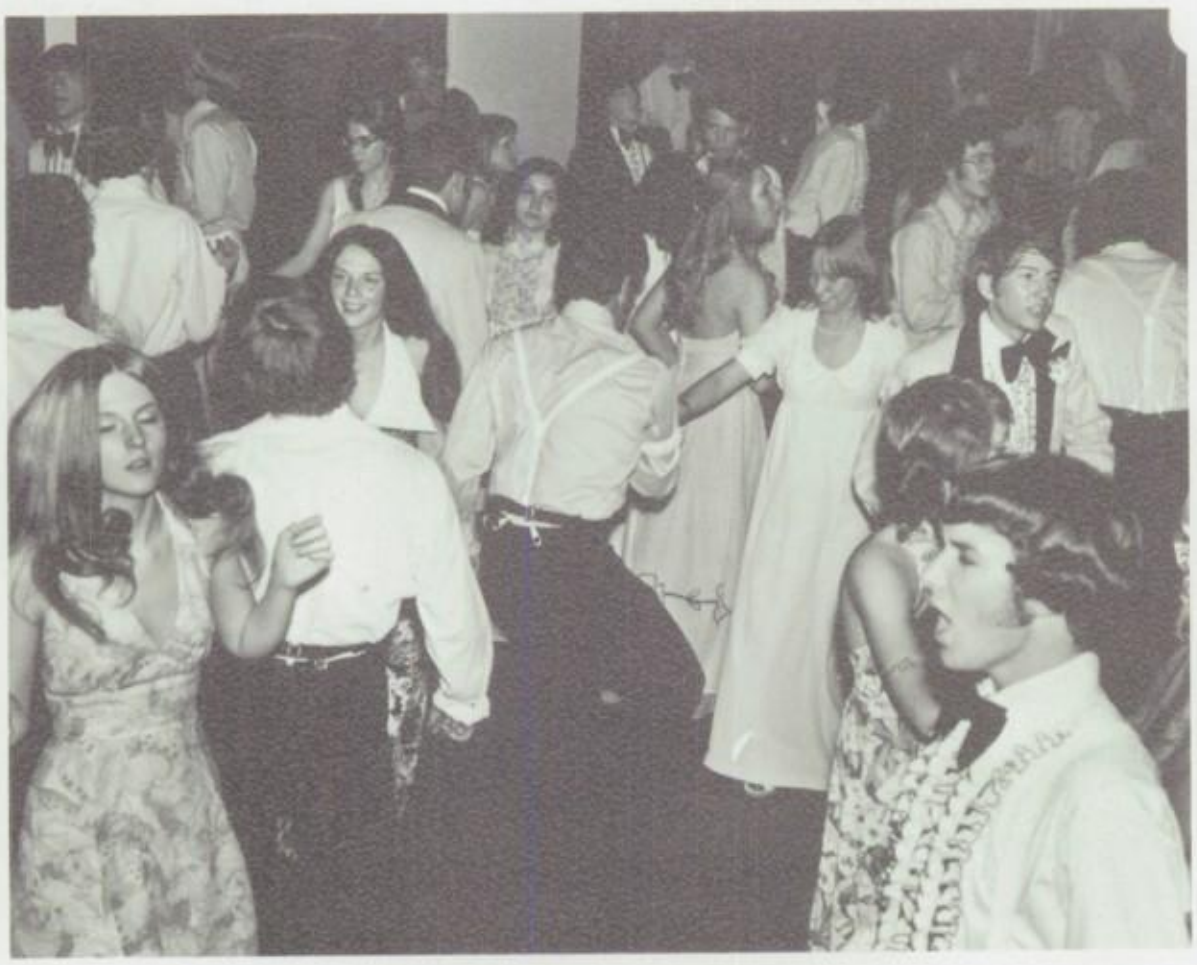
The active head singer of Trinity played the guitar, bongos and tambourine.

Music for the evening was provided by the popular rock group, Trinity. They played many pieces of Chicago, a medley of Beatle music along with the now sounds.

Trinity Plays at Prom Town House



Seniors Nancy Steifel, Lee Gustin, Kathy Trible and Debbie Lundgren seem to be enjoying the dance, apparently oblivious to the fact that it's the last of their high school days.

Butterflies, flowers and bees all set the pace for the Prom of 1973. The juniors set the atmosphere rolling into spring by decorating the Prom Town House to the theme of "Butterflies Are Free".

This year prom goers started out their evening by dancing to the music of the popular Omaha rock group, Trinity. During intermissions, Senior Wills were read by John Hughes and Margie Guerra.

Even though the school sponsored part of prom was over, the night was still young. Next on the agenda were movies "Heartbreak Kid" and "A Separate Peace", shown at the Papio Theatre.

After the movies, many separate parties were held while other prom goers headed for the boatride on the Missouri River.

For those still awake at 7:00 was breakfast at a pancake house.

Prom Theme, "Butterflies Are Free"

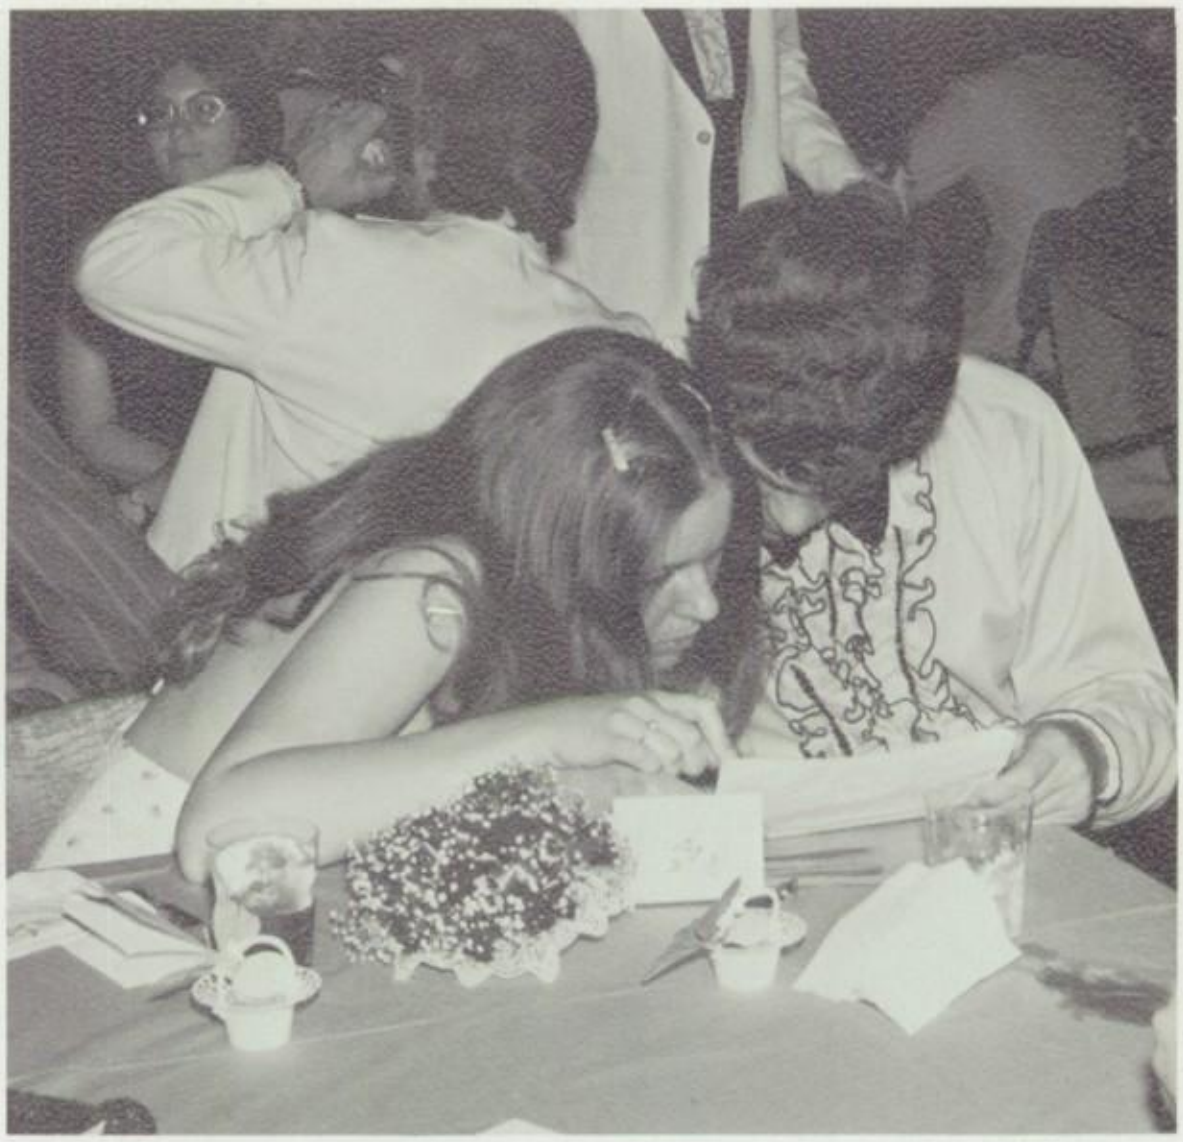
"...Promise your love I've waited to share and dream of our moments together..."

Prom hits people differently. Debi Fahy and Randy Johnson seem to be tired out already, but Gina Offenstine and Ed Boswell are still going strong.

Catching a few minutes of rest between dances are John Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Smith, and Mr. and Mrs. Keith Pollard.

Junior class officers, John Hughes and Margie Guerra read the senior wills.

Cher Charron digs into the fortune bowl hoping that it will be good news.



With the bad lighting, juniors Debbie Krueger and Norman Wilcox find it hard to read all the wills to find which ones they missed.

Mike McAnulty and Diane Teusaw move to the rhythm of old Beatle songs.

George Hinkle and his date find the slow, peaceful music drawing them closer together.

Finding an empty chair seems to be a problem for LeVon Snodgrass and Joe Batson.

Largest Class: 209 Seniors Graduate

Sandy Boswell, who never thought the day would come, happily accepts the long awaited diploma from the School Board President, Marvin Hahn.

The largest graduating class in Papillion High School history, made up of 209 seniors, received diplomas May 22, at 8:00 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Honor addresses were given by Linda LeVan and Pam Walter and senior class president, Fred Uhe, led the Pledge of Alligence. The Rev. Alan Lorentzen gave the invocation and benediction.

There was also a special presentation of the two South American students, Juliet Rochet and Monica Chavez, who spent part of their year here.

A senior quartet sang the song "I Will Never Walk This Way Again".

After 12 years of schooling, Jake still doesn't know how to put her cap on straight.

In her address, Pam Walter suggests an attitude of "I rather than I think I can".

Linda LeVan warns, "We cannot live on memories of the past or dreams of the future, our dreams must form the basis for reality".

The feeling of happiness and many thoughts travel through this graduate's mind.

Juliet Rochet, foreign exchange student from Brazil, tells about her life and customs.

Paula Draper and Mike Dulkeski appear sad, but determined during the processional.

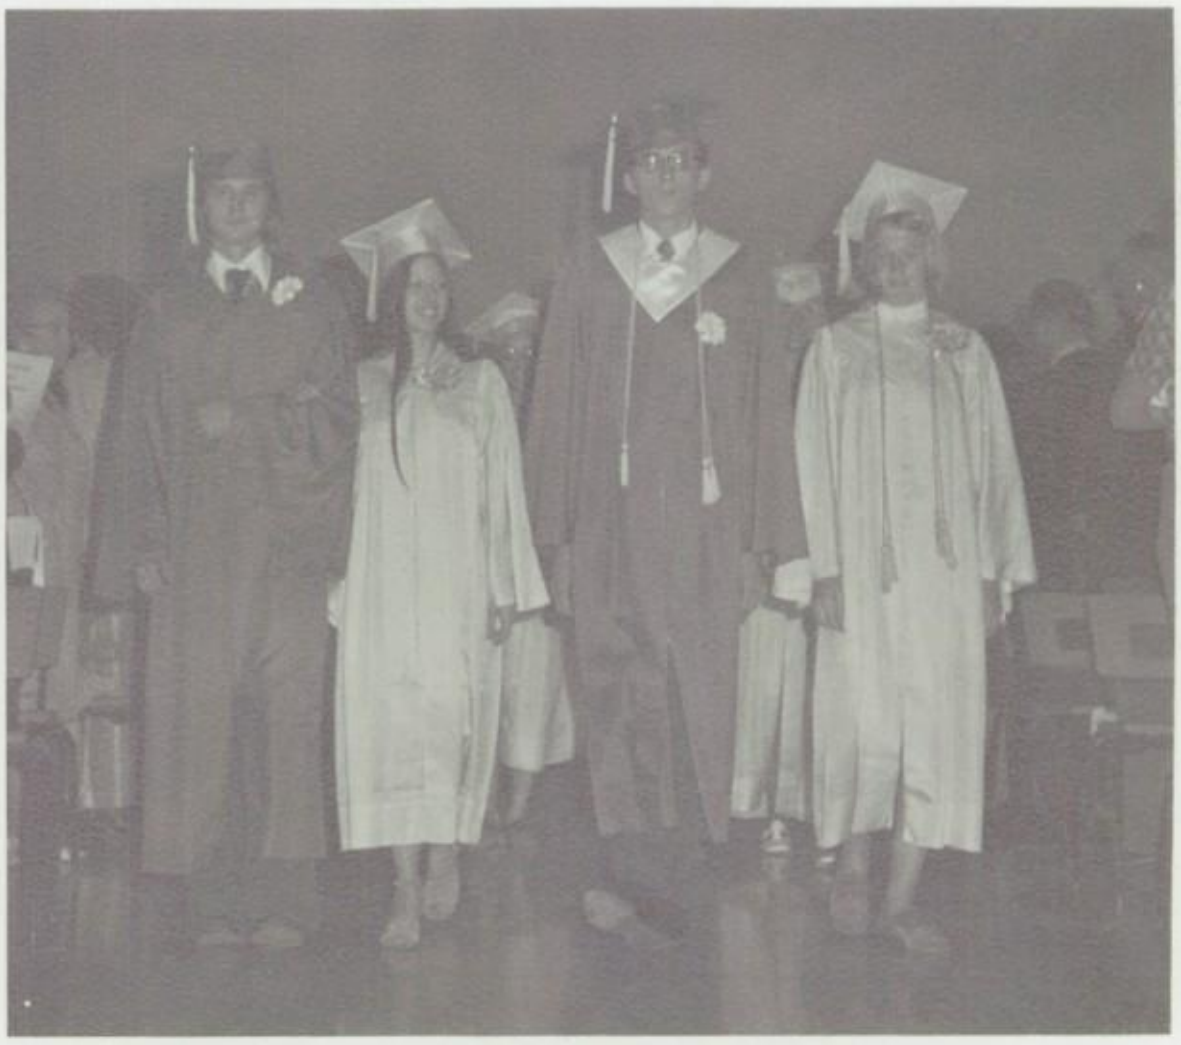
Senior class president, Fred Uhe, leads the guests and graduates in the Pledge.



The look of seriousness along with happiness and sorrow fill the faces of Randy Brezina, Melissa Mendes, Raymond Speer and Julie Bard as the moment of graduation draws nearer.

Cheerleaders Split for Winter Sports

Cheerleading was handled completely different this year. Instead of having cheerleaders just for basketball and just for wrestling, they were combined for football and then split for basketball and wrestling. Varsity had 10 for football and split up six to basketball and four to wrestling. Reserves had eight for football and broke down to four each for basketball and wrestling.

Mother told me about basketball players, but she never told me about Ultra-Brite!

Varsity Basketball Cheerleaders (left to right) are: Sheryl Ulrich, Becky Swarbrick, Mindy Reissener (captain), Kathy Earnest, and Kathy Schuring.

Ralston cheerleaders were guests for supper before the Ralston football game.

You silly rabbit! Don't you know that Tricks are just for kids?!

Gridders Battle for 2nd in Apollo

Darrell Rahe prepares to put a stop to the Columbus quarterback's intended pass.

The Monarchs posted their best grid record in the last five years, finishing the season with a 5-3-1 mark, and placing second in the Apollo Conference with a 3-1-1 league record.

Papillion featured an explosive offense which outscored its opponents by a season total of 39 points, although they ran fewer plays from scrimmage. The rushing attack was well balanced with the passing game; 1,555 yards were racked up on the ground and over 1,020 yards were gained through the air.

Mike O'Neal led the Monarchs in rushing with 753 yards in 163 attempts for eight touchdowns. John Hughes was the second leading rusher, scoring five touchdowns. Dave Burke scored four times on the ground, with Mike Walsh and Bob Mohr each adding two more.

Quarterback Hughes, although plagued with interceptions, threw for over 1,000 yards and nine touchdowns; eight of these to Darrell Rahe. Rahe paced the receivers with 30 receptions for 636 yards. Mike Baker tallied the other touchdown by air, one of his six receptions for 100 yards.

The defense, though not over powering, managed to hold the opposition to fewer points and less yardage than gained by Papillion. Norm Wilcox was the mainstay of the defense with 20 tackles and 69 assists. Other defensive standouts were Dennis Rahe, 11 tackles and 57 assists, and Greg Schack, 14 tackles and 50 assists.

At the end of the season the squad voted Mike O'Neal "Most Valuable Player." O'Neal and Darrell Rahe were chosen honorary co-captains for the season. Coach Mahler had very high praise for the 1972 team. He said, 'This is a football team you should be proud of because I certainly am."

Beatrice defensive end, Don Moren, desperately tries to get Mike Walsh down to stop him from going all the way for a possible touchdown.

John Hughes jumps in and misses a possible interception by a split second.

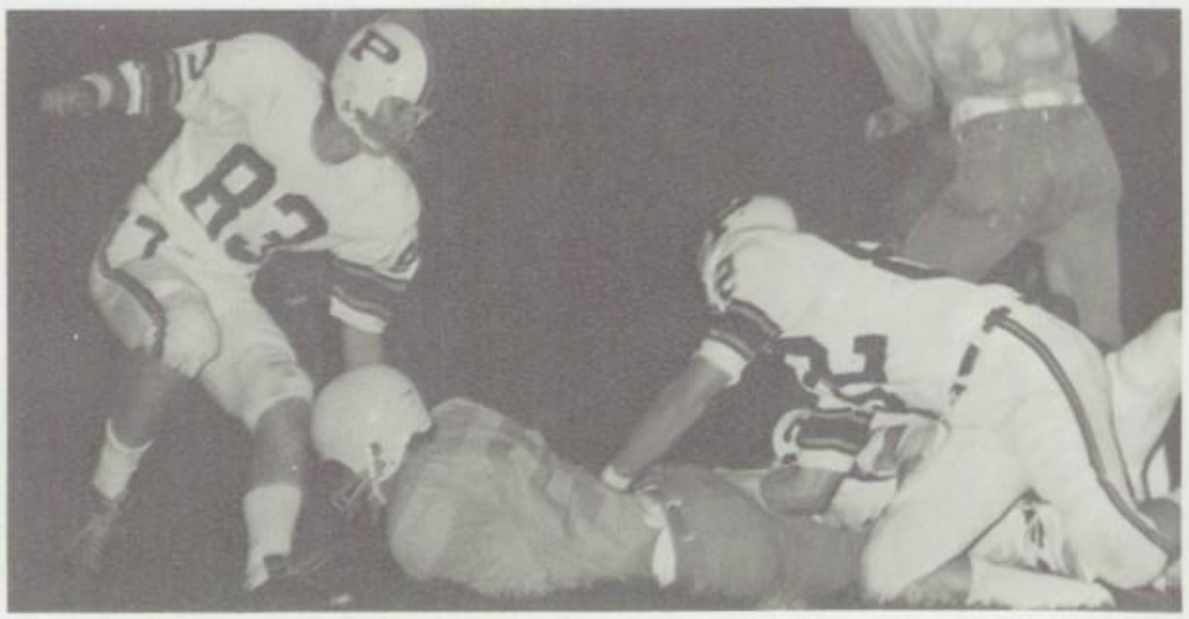
Trying to get in on the tackle, Dave Burke finds himself in a big mess.

Before the game with South Sioux the Monarchs gather in their regular pregame huddle to receive a little confidence and last minute instructions from Coach Mahler.

Monarchs Finish Season With 5-3-1

Closing in to stop the opponent are Dennis Rahe (60) and John Hughes (14).

During the fantastic game against the Norfolk Panthers, the Monarchs strive to break through the line to stop the Panthers from gaining yardage.



Darrell Rahe (83) and Dave Fisher (82), Papillion's two senior ends, get through the tough blocking of the Kearney Bearcats to put a stop to their ball carrier.

In a disappointing upset, a South Sioux defender halts halfback Bob Mohr.

Junior middle guard, Dennis Rahe makes sure with a second hit that the Nebraska City Pioneer is stopped after a short gain.

JV Season Has Dismal Record

Greg Daniell (22) fights his way through the Millard defense to gain yardage while Terry Tighe (64) and Cliff Grosskopf (52) run in to help.

The sophomore dominated Papillion JV team struggled through a disappointing season, finishing the year with a 2-4 record.

The Monarch offense, shut out for their first three games, finally came alive against Millard, posting the first points of the season. The offense, the weak link in the Monarch chain, scored only 47 points in six games. The leading rusher, also the top scorer, was Randy Bowdish. Greg Daniell was the primary receiver, leading the squad in receptions. Quarterback Kevin Pollard, who also filled in as the place-kicker, led the team in passing statistics.

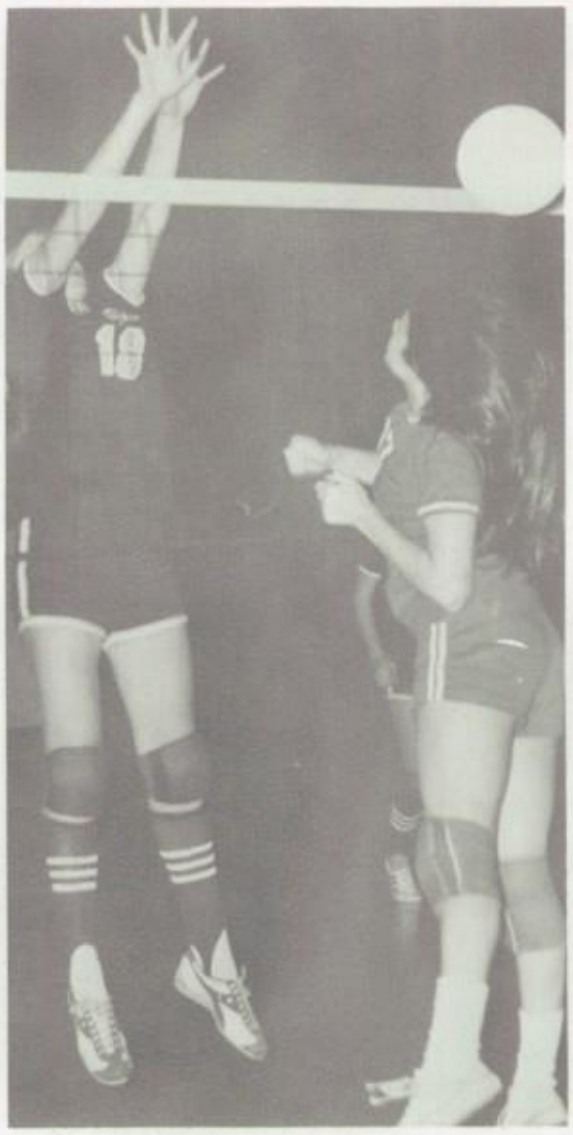
The defense, surprisingly strong, allowed only 17 points a game. The leading tackler on the squad was Brad Roberts.

Coach Dave Schofield cited "experience as the main problem facing the young gridders." He added that not scoring in the first three games had a bad effect on the team.

Getting ready to load the bus to the state tournament held at Scottsbluff is the 1972 Volleyball team. Bottom row: R. Kirk, L. Walls, K. Steiger, D. Hooper. Top row: J. Bledsoe, S. Miller M. Schmidt, F. Timmerman, L. Spethman, S. Broderick, C. Pyles, S. Wise, P. Snutch. Coach Mrs. Linda Light termed the 11-5 season as "highly successful." This is the second year Papillion has had a girls volleyball team.

Misses Reign As District Champs

Karri Steiger goes up to spike the ball and score another team point.



Louise Spethman jumps up and smacks the ball over the net to score.

In the second year of girls volleyball at Papillion, the Monarchs had a very successful season. The girls nabbed a 7-4 regular season record and a 4-1 tournament record.

Papillion captured the District championship by defeating Westside and Millard. The Monarchs then traveled to Scottsbluff for the first state tournament in volleyball. The girls were defeated in the first round by Scottsbluff.

Coach Mrs. Linda Light, stops for a bright smile after district championships.

Roundballers Record 7-13 Season Mark

Leading the Monarchs onto the home court for the first game is senior, Kirk Eymann.

The Monarchs, possessing the dubious distinction of being the smallest Class A team in the state posted a dismal 7-13 record for the 1972-1973 season.

Despite the pessimistic outlook shown by many, the cagers overcame three of their first four opponents. South Souix City and Millard both conference rivals fell along with North Platte who had a decided height advantage. Throughout the rest of the season the Monarchs were up and down splitting with Norfolk before losing to Columbus in the Apollo Conference semi-finals. The roundballers finished fourth in the tournament.

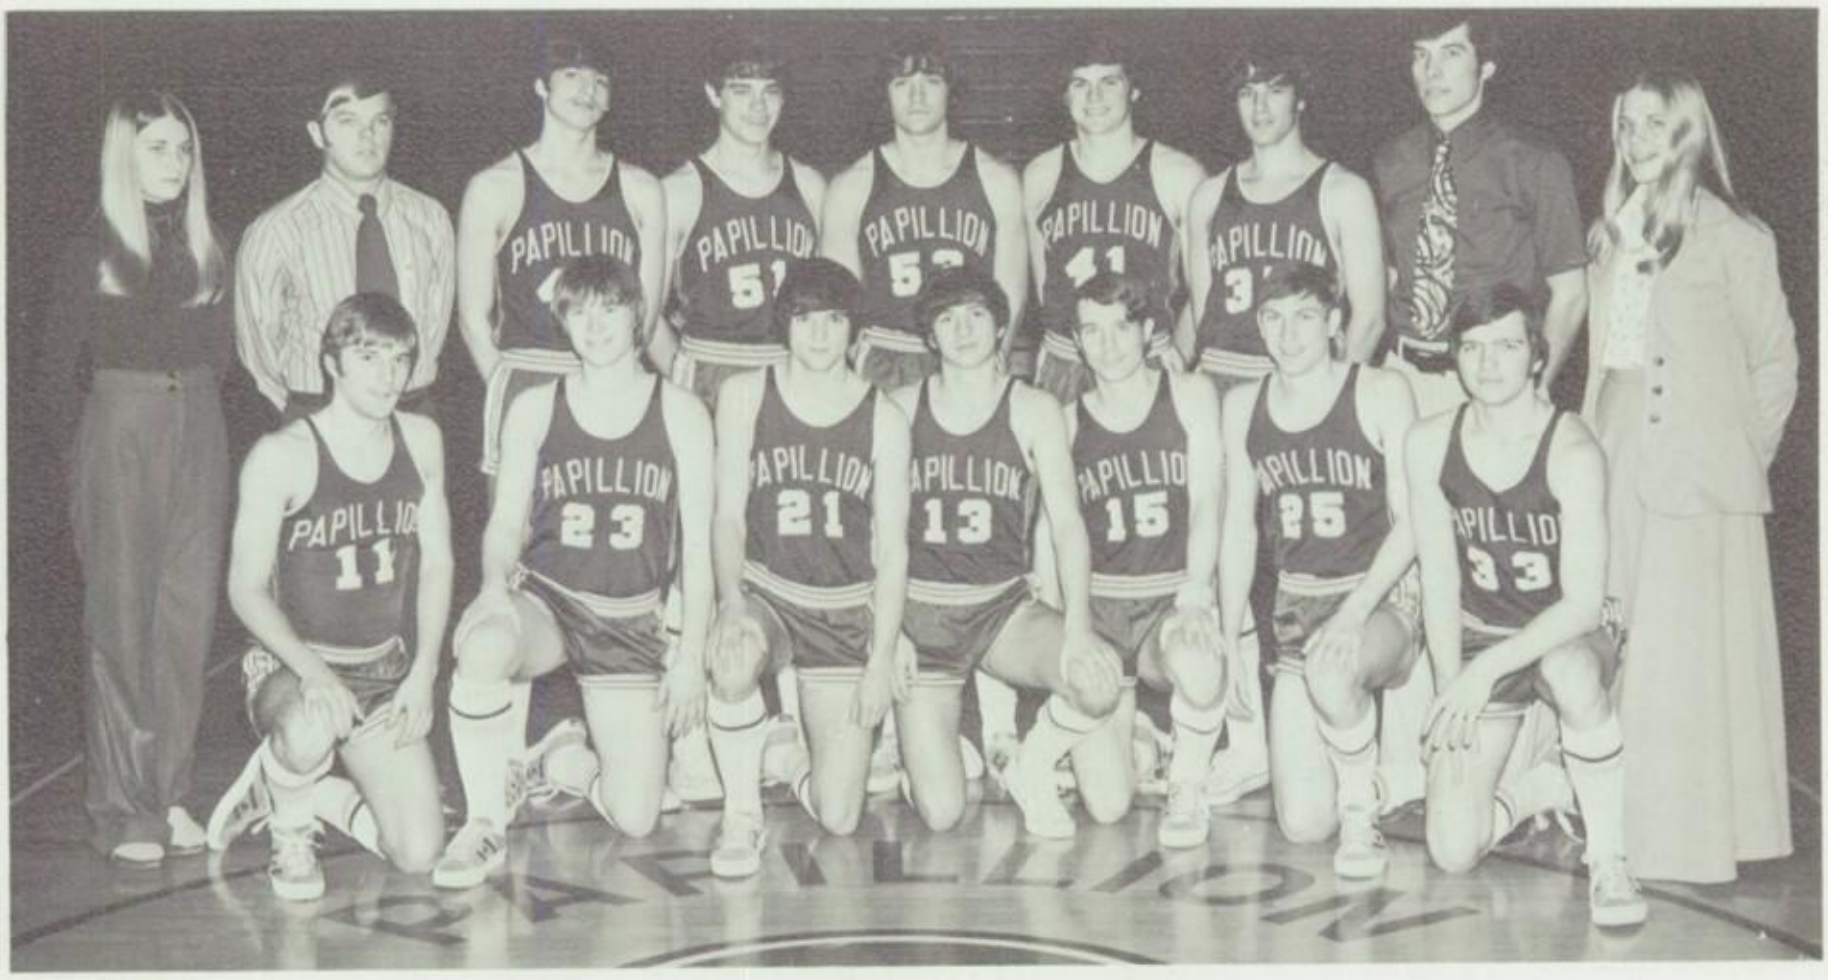
Coach Dennis Hanson admitted toward the end of the season "Everything we do is pointed toward districts and with every practice I keep it in mind."

Paired with Westside in districts, Hanson stated he was pretty optimistic over Papillion's chances of beating Westside. The Monarchs jumped to an early lead and held it until the Warriors made their desperation come back in the last few minutes of the fourth quarter. Ironically the Papillion cagers held the edge most of the game, only to be tied when regulation time expired, and drop an overtime heartbreaker.

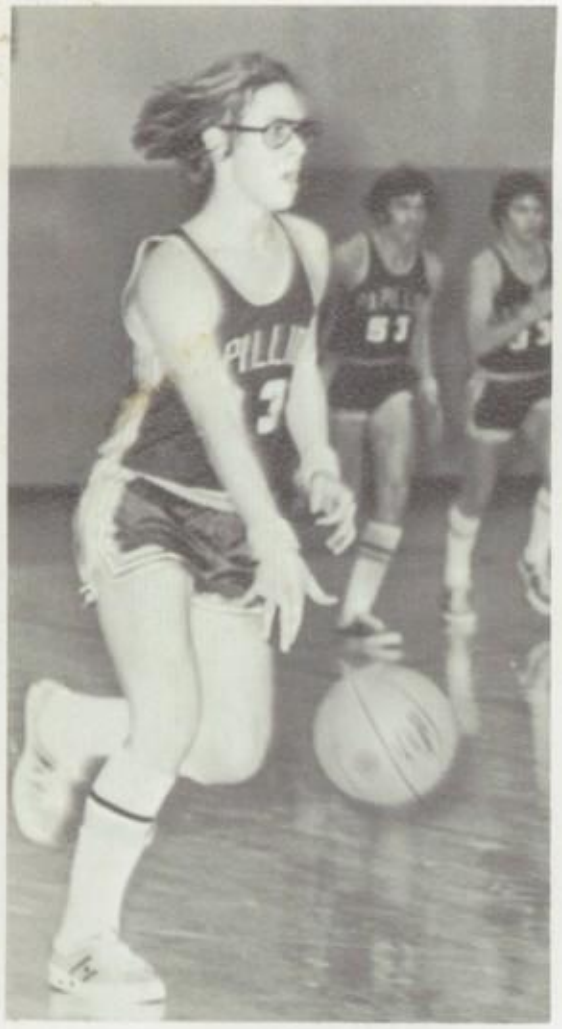
Coach Hanson stated at the end of the season, "We won games we had no business winning, and we lost games we had no business losing."

Kirk Eymann was the spark plug of the team, leading in scoring and assists with 246 points for the season. Kirk was selected for All-Conference in the Apollo Conference tournament and was also selected to play in the Metro all-star game.

Scoring over the 100 point mark were: Dan Kelly, 165; John Hughes, 144; Joe Duffer,142; Dan Zaloudek, 138; and Rick Alexander, 103. Kelly led the cagers on the boards by pulling down 160 rebounds.



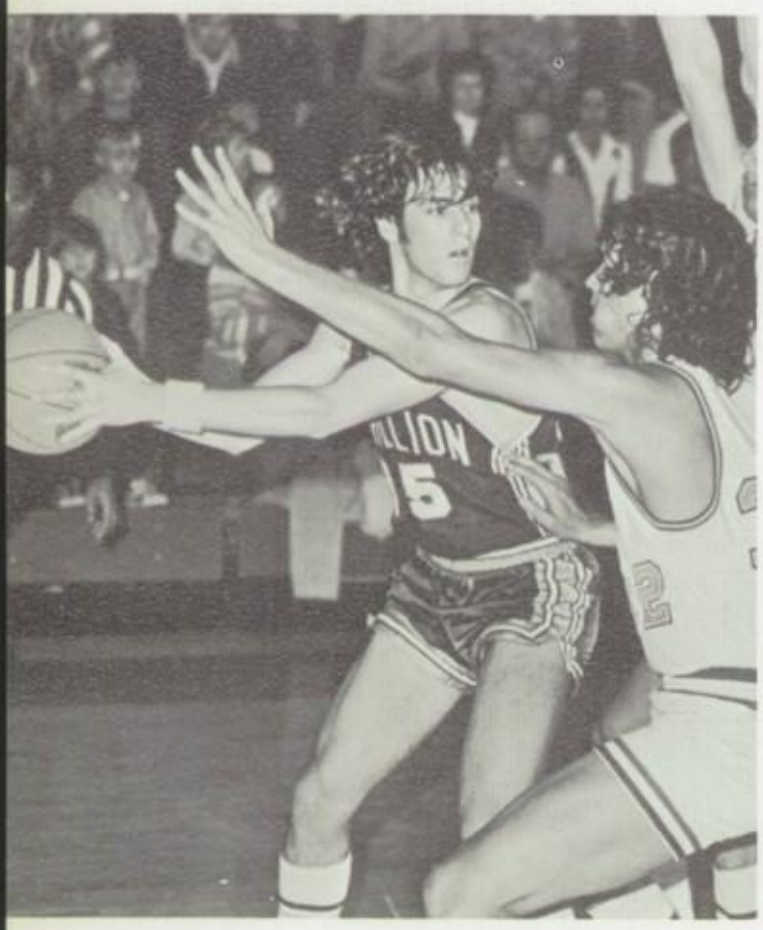
Front row: R. Alexander, G. Shives, M. Jones, K. Eymann, D. Glendenning, D. Zaloudek, M. O'Neal. Back row: S. Broderick, manager, Coach Dennis Hanson, J. Duffer, B. Miller, D. Kelly, J. Hughes, L. Gustin, Coach Bob Hahn, J. Bellinghausen, manager.



Bringing the ball down court, Gary Shives goes in for a lay up.

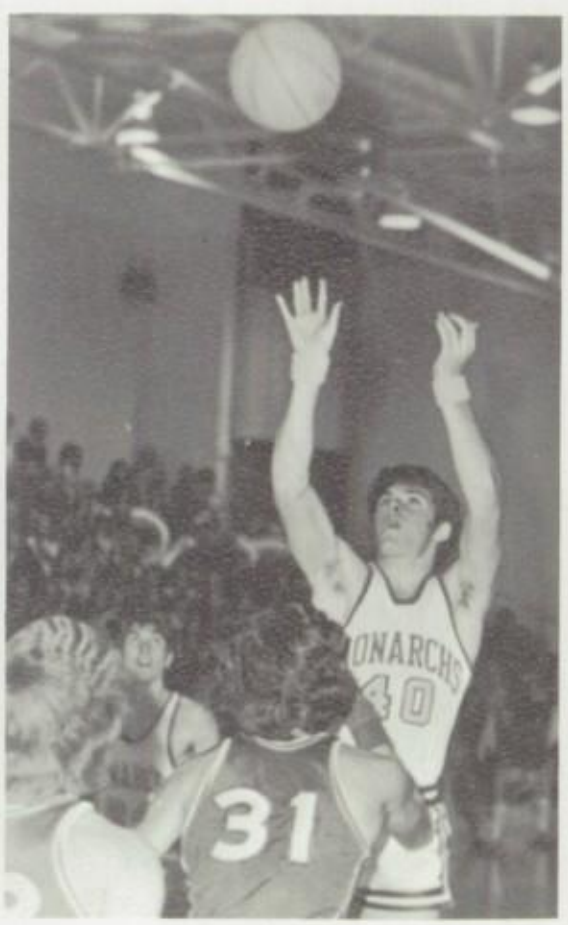
Dan Kelly (52), Dan Zaloudek (24), and Gary Shives (22) all try to stop the Indians from scoring on their way to victory over Millard.

Papillion Cagers Plagued by Shortness

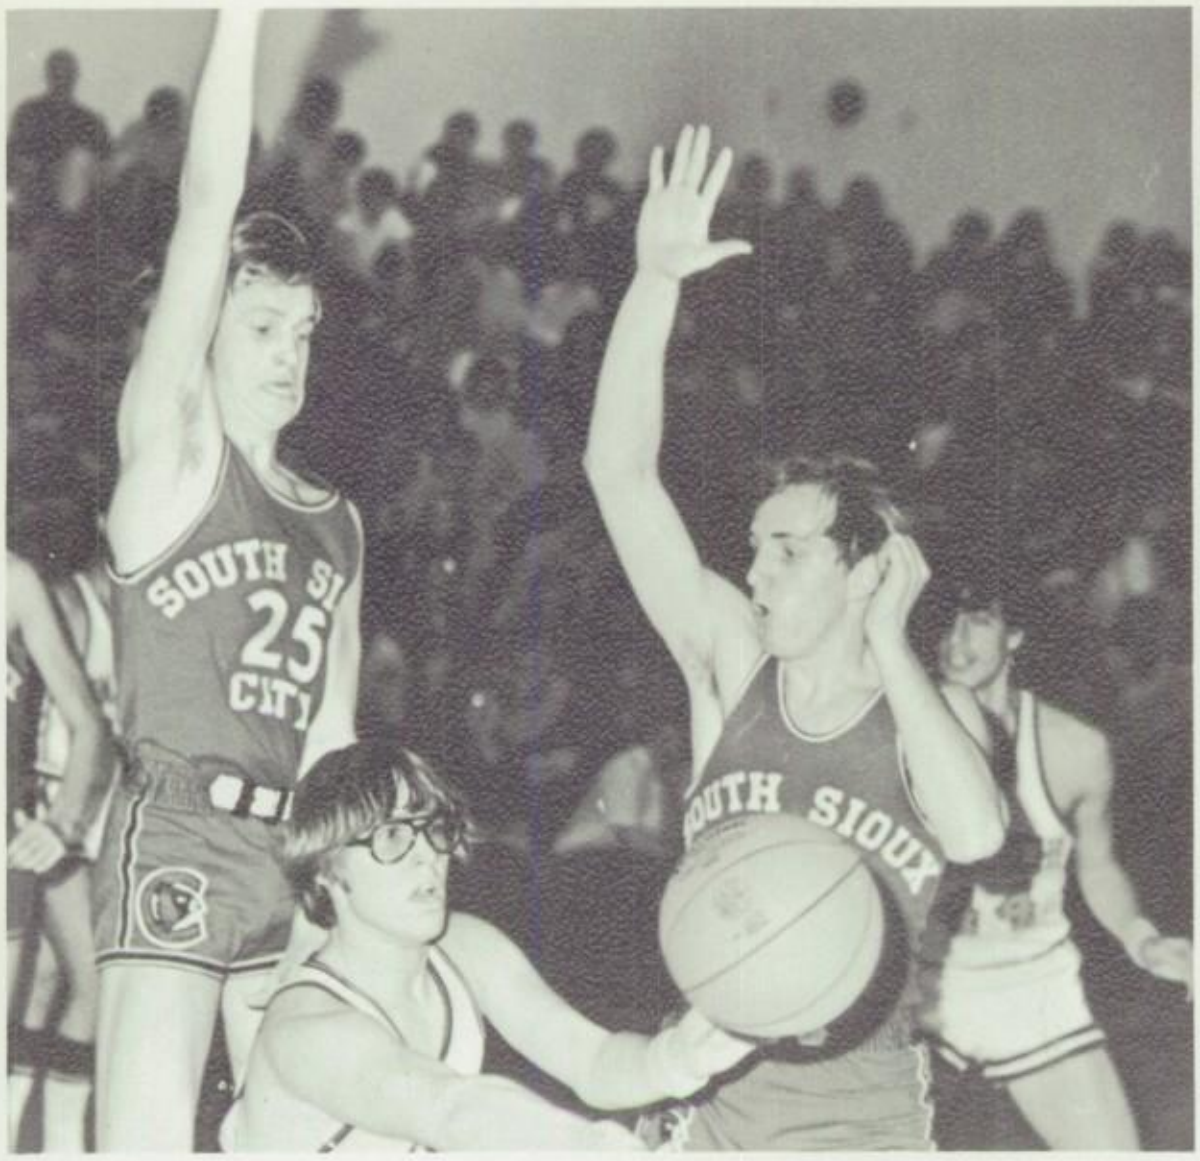


As Gross tries to steal the ball, Lee Gustin looks for a pass to another teammate.

Going in against South Souix, Kirk Eymann gets into form to shoot for another basket.



John Hughes jumps up above the Millard Indians for two more Monarch points.



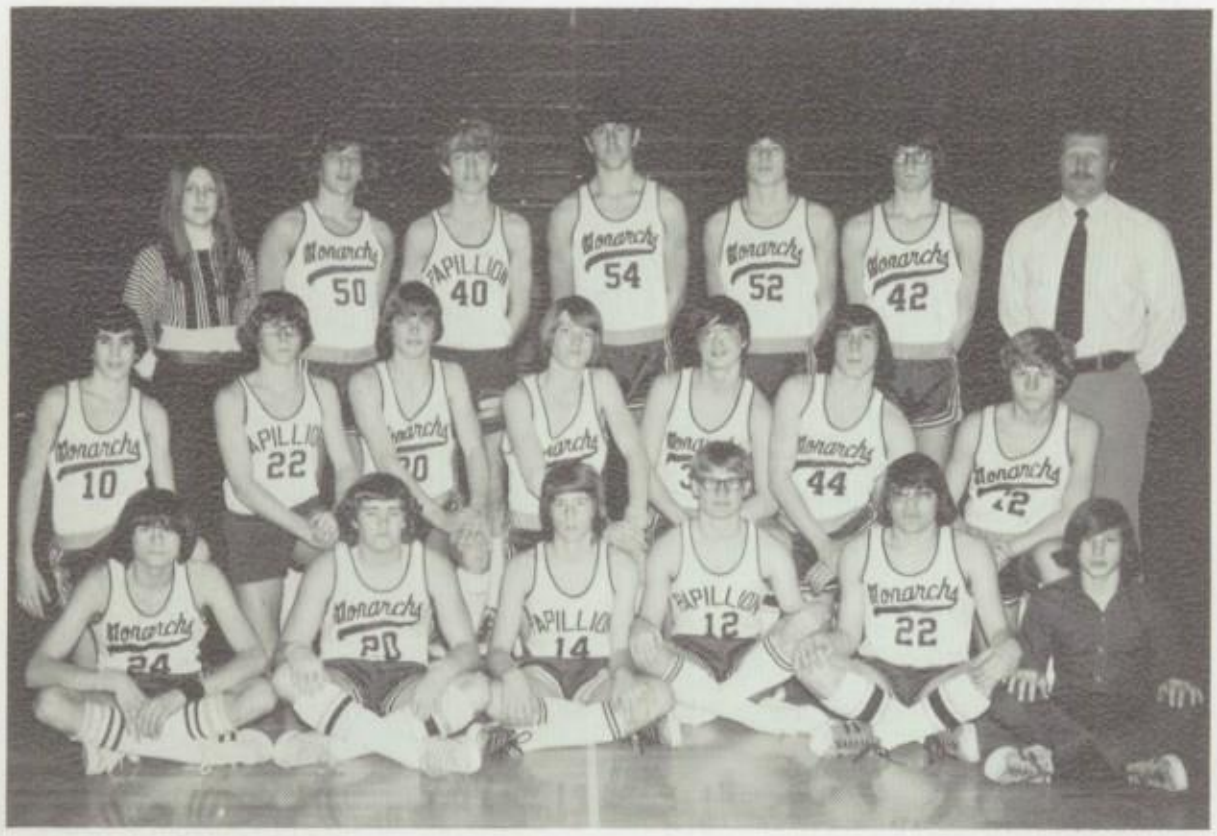
While South Souix puts up a block against Gary Shives to stop him from scoring, Shives tries to pass the ball out to other teammates.

Kirk Eymann outjumps South Souix City to get the ball to Dan Zaloudek.

Rick Alexander prepares to jump and block the Indians from trying to score.

Surrounded by Ralston invaders, Denny Bendinger (35) and Mike Runyon (51), Dan Kelly looks out to pass the ball while Dan Zaloudek moves in to help.

Sophomores Find 8-4 Season Rewarding



Bottom row: M. Zelasney, B. Aken, C. Flemmer, K. Grinstead, G. Daniell, J. Rusnik, manager. Second row: R. Collins, R. Lundgren, B. Stover, M. Synder, K. Pollard, S. Zauha, K. Skarda, Third row: C. Lundgart, manager, R. Bowdish, D. Wallace, J. Haskell, M. Wathen, M. Burkhart, Coach Yates.

This year's sophomore basketball team, coached by Reggie Yates, ended their season with a strong finish by winning their last six straight games.

Steve Zauha led the sophomores in scoring this season netting 170 points for a 14.1 average. Mike Burkhart and Jim Haskell averaged 9.7 and 9.6 points respectivily in offensive help.

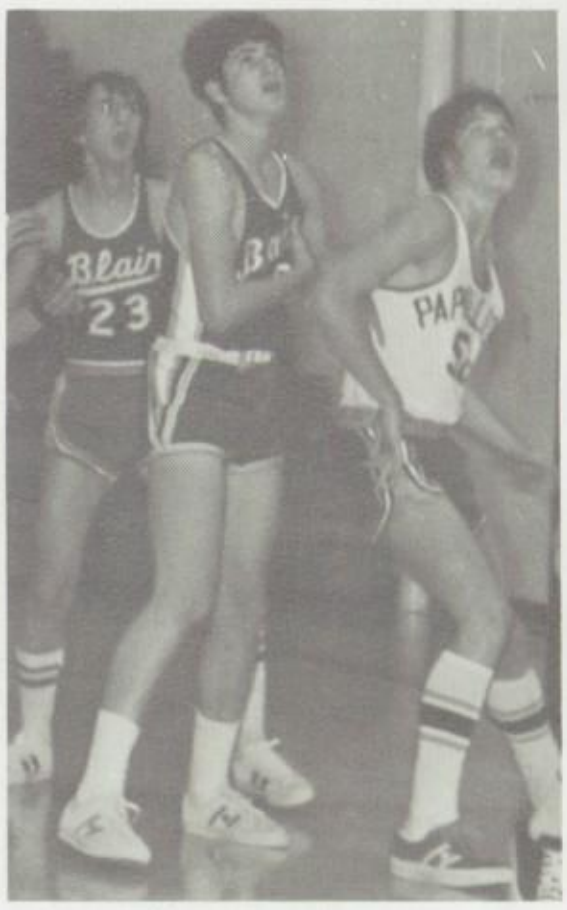
Leading the squad on the boards were Burkhart and Haskell. Burkhart nabbed 96 rebounds and Haskell pulled down 87.

Coach Yates explained his team's improvements in the last six games, "They cut down on their turnovers which helped a great deal, but the main thing was they gained a lot of maturity that helped win some close games."

Coach Yates added, "The sophomore second team didn't get to play much, but came to practice all the time and worked hard. By doing this they helped the team more than they will ever know."

Steve Zauha shoots for two as Mike Zelasney gets ready to rebound against Northwest.

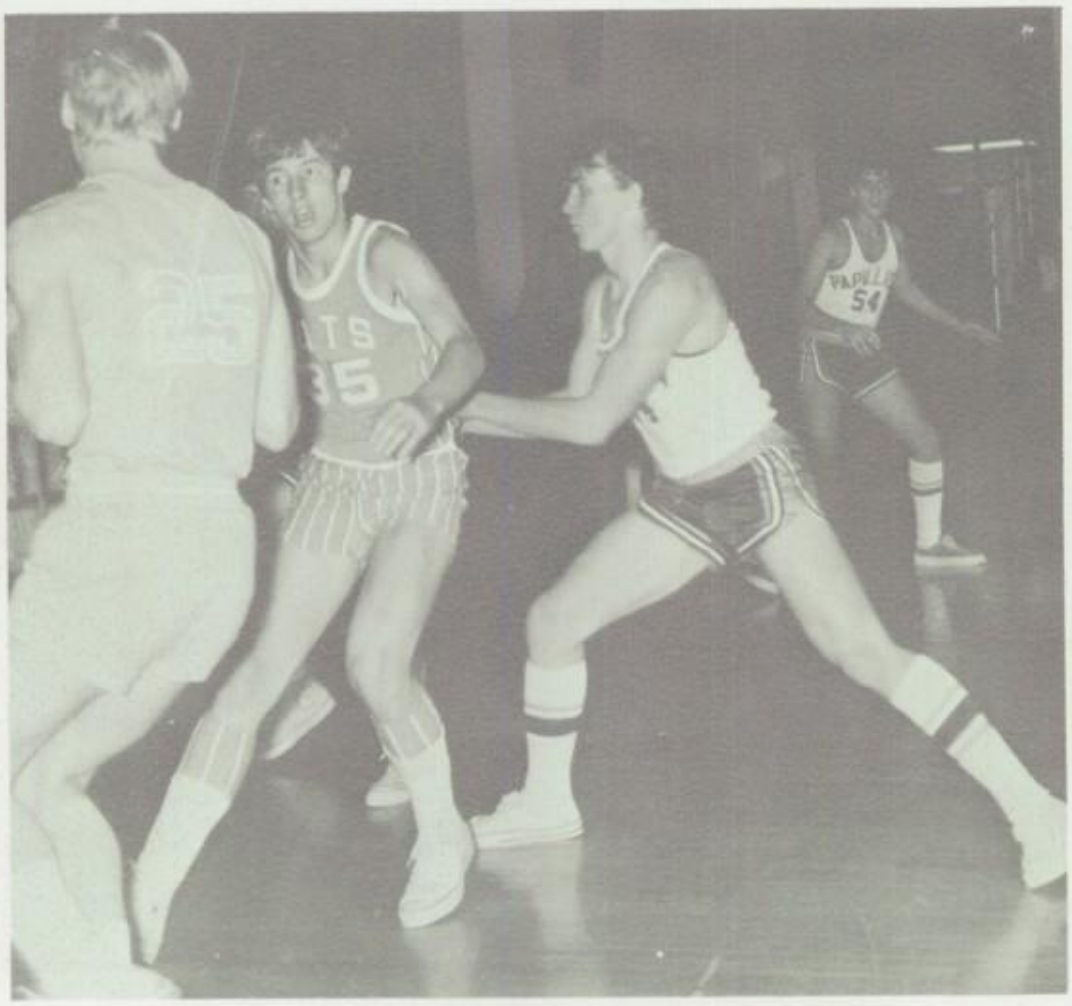
Mike Burkhart jumps up to win the jumpball over the Northwest Huskies.



Mike Wathen (52) moves in front of Blair to grab the ball on the rebound.

Front row: J. Kramer, M. Moravec, D. Kelly, D. Scheer, M. Henkensiefken, D. Sedlachek. Back row: Coach Bob Hahn, J. Fantaski, D. Burke, D. Eden, D. Pratt, N. Wilcox, M. Walsh.

JV Teamwork Helps Win Close Games



Waiting to grab the pass, Dave Burke moves in to stop the ball from falling into the hands of the Kearney Bearcats.

The key words for most of the junior varsity basketball season seemed to be "close games." The junior varsity cagers saw very few times when there were more than four or five points separating them from their opponent either by winning or losing. The Monarchs went into four overtime games with the cagers winning all but one.

The team got off to a fast start, winning the first four games against South Souix, North Platte, Paul VI, and Kearney. The program then went on to win one, lose one.

Coach Bob Hahn stated "There were no big stars on the team, but each player showed the teamwork that will help them represent the Monarchs on the varsity squad next year."

Freshman Netters End Season With 5- 8

As Scott Jochimsen (10) goes high for a layup to add two more points to the Monarch score, Millard tries to put a block on the ball.

Holding a 4-2 record half way through the basketball season, the Monarch roundballers posted a 5-8 record at the close of the 1972-1973 season.

Losing 65-62 to Ralston in the Freshman Conference Tournament put a halt on the freshman cagers season.

Larry Shank led the freshman netters in scoring and on the boards. Shank averaged 18.6 points per game and had a total of 228 team points. Pulling down an average of 16 rebounds per game put Shank on the top of the rebounding charts. Shank's season high was 26 rebounds in one game.

Scoring over seventy-five points for the Monarchs were: Mike Fantaski with an average of 14.6 points per game and 170 total points for the season; Dave Dame scored an average of 7 points per game and ended the season with 91 points; Steve Lusero averaged 6.8 points per game and totaled 89 at the close of the season.

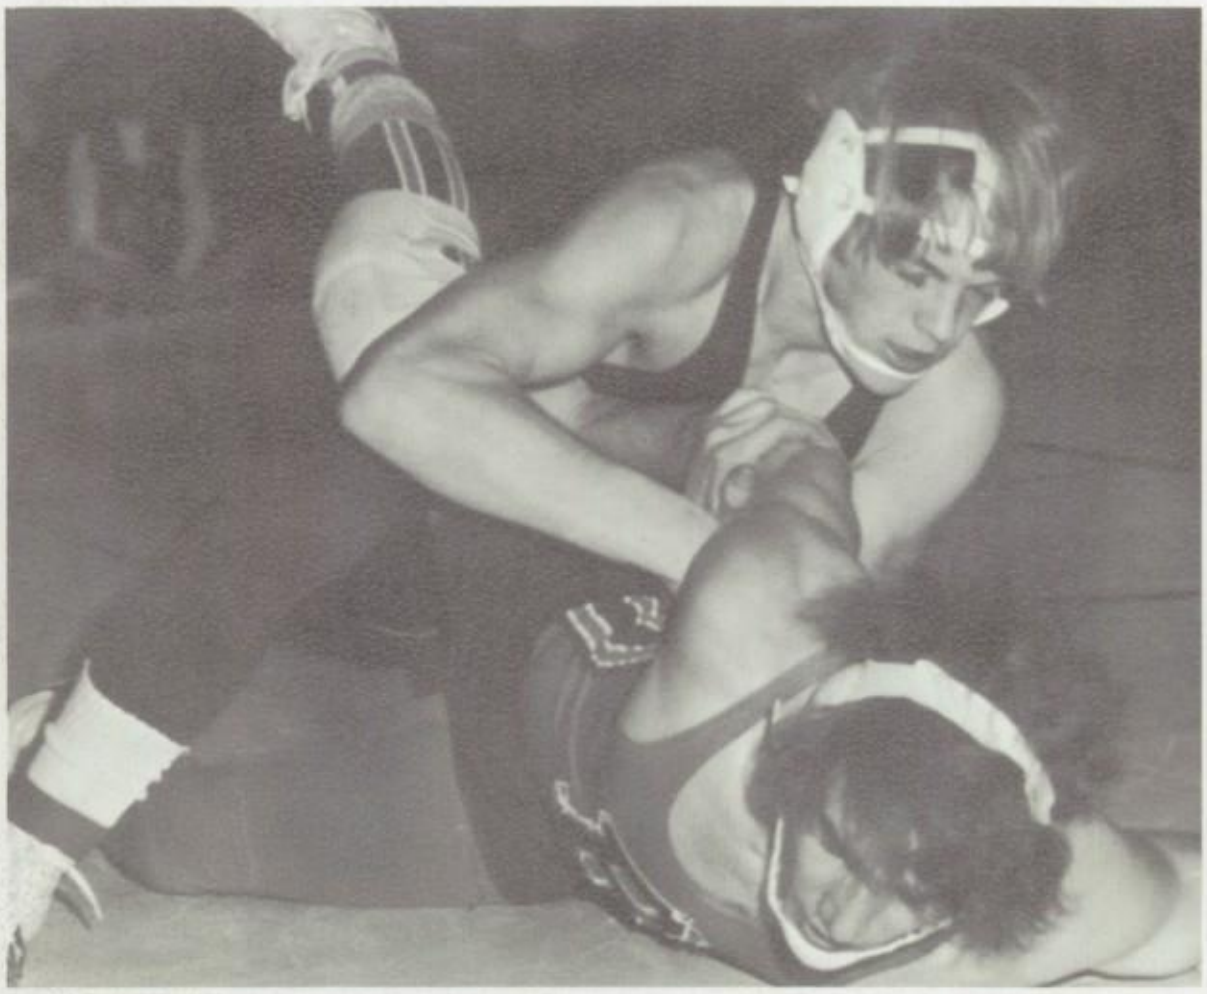
Lack Of Numbers Hurts Team's Strength

Holding Lincoln East in a pinning position during an away match, Mark Nicholson strives for a pin over the Spartan to gain six team points.

Lack of numbers on the Junior Varsity Wrestling team plagued the squad causing them to hold a losing record at the season's end. Despite the record, the grapplers on the team all held a winning record. Coach Ken Otter said "The guys on the team were all good and won most of their individual meets but we lost the matches because of forfeiting 30 to 36 points at the beginning of each dual."

Coach Otter stated "Next year we are looking forward to a full Junior Varsity team. There are some strong freshman coming up that should make the Junior Varsity more rounded out, I don't think we are going to have to forfeit so many points."

Matmen Finish Season With 4-7 Record



Wrestling his way to another victory, Russ Reincke strives for a reversal of Rummel and gains two more points for his match.

Success came to the 1972-73 wrestling squad early in the season, but dropped off considerably in the latter half of the campaign.

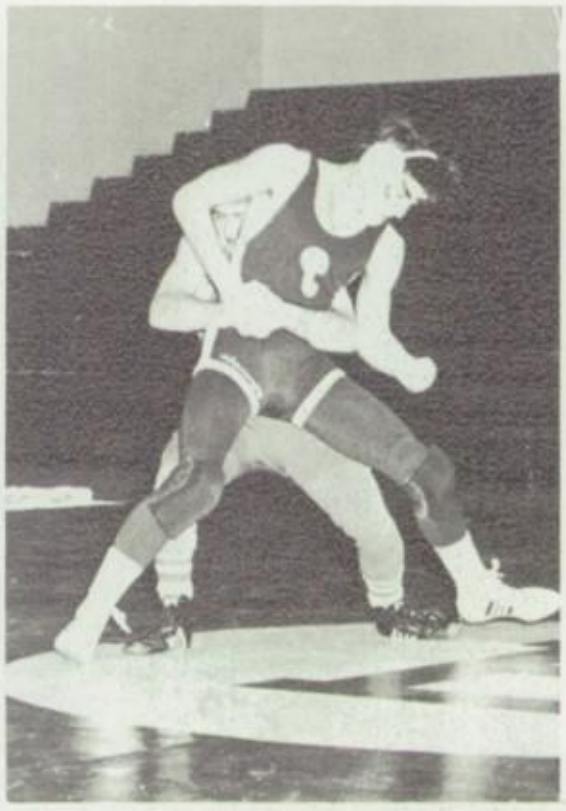
After placing third in the Fremont Invitational and absorbing a loss to Creighton Prep, the Monarch grapplers enjoyed three straight dual wins and then went on to lose six out of their last seven dual meets. Coach Melcher stated, "In the last seven dual meets the lone win against Columbus was the team's best dual effort."

Russ Reincke held the best individual record of the season with a 25-5 record, undefeated in duals, he placed third in the State Tournament and was voted Most Outstanding Junior and wrestler of the season.

Ted Schroeder, undefeated in dual meets, recorded a 23-7 record, was Honorary Captain and qualified for the State Tournament. Other honors went to Mark Cooley, Outstanding Sophomore; and Mark Nicholson, Most Improved Wrestler.

Bottom row: R. Schlueter, A. Cuellar, G. Timmerman, B. Rigby, M. Nicholson, R. Schroeder, R. Moser, D. Skoumal. Top row: Coach Melcher, T. Tighe, G. Penke, M. Cooley, R. Fader, R. Reincke, T. Robertson, T. Vogt.

Helping out the wrestlers throughout the season are student managers, Tom Austin, Debbie Doane, Dan Vogt, Mickie Davies, and Les Anderson.



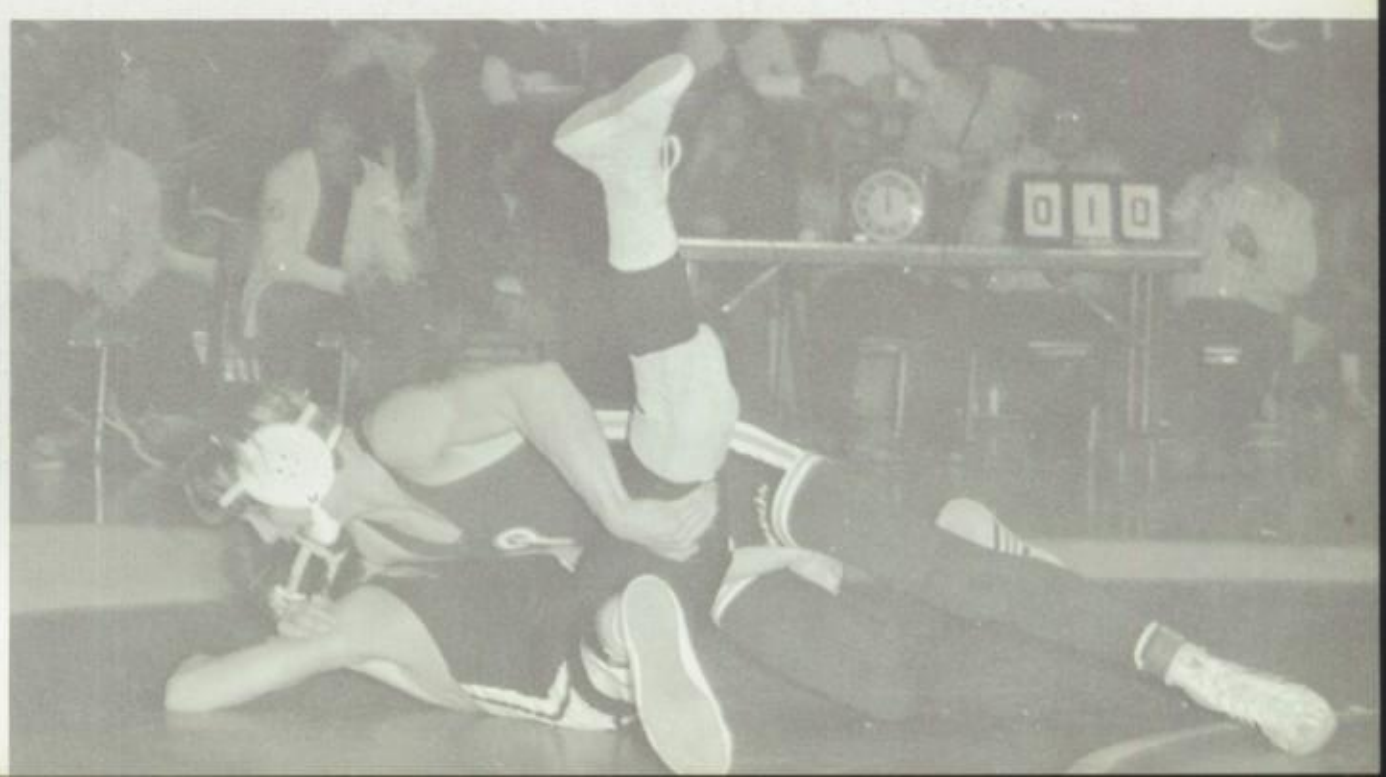
Fighting for an escape, Gary Timmerman tries to break his opponent's grip.

Ron Rockenbach moves out to escape and add a point to his match score.

Russ Reincke prepares a difficult pinning hold on Benson during the State Tournament. Russ, voted outstanding wrestler, placed third in state.

Trying to keep his opponent from reversing, Ted Schroeder holds on tight.

Honorary Team Captain Ted Schroeder, prepares a strong hold on his opponent to turn him over on the mat and try for a pin.



Frosh Wrestlers Show Strong Potential

Rick Jones (top) and Dave Tilford try different holds on each other as they wrestle during an exhibition match at a practice session.

The freshman wrestling team, coached by Paul Limas, held a 2-7 dual record for 1972-1973. Because of the lack of grapplers on the team, the squad was forced to forfeit points before each match began. Coach Limas stated "Where there were wrestlers in weight divisions we were very strong."

Rick Jones and Tom Roehm were undefeated in dual matches. Tom Roehm was the outstanding wrestler at the Suburban Freshman Wrestling Conference. Nine out of eleven wrestlers placed at the conference tourney.

Jim McFarland and Rick Jones were the captains for the freshman squad. Chosen outstanding wrestler for the 1972-1973 season by his teammates was Rick Jones. Dave Tilford was voted most improved wrestler.

Coach Limas said, "I feel these freshman have outstanding potential and some will be wrestling in the varsity program next year."

Bottom row: M. Ardery, manager, C. Poole, R. Jones, T. Prater, D. Warren, K. Brown, manager. Second row: Coach Paul Limas, D. Tilford, B. Stovall, R. Hill, J. Earnest, D. Fisher, manager. Top row: L. Evans, R. Blackwelder, T. Roehm, J. McFarland, B. Skoumal.

Golf Team Sparked by Underclassmen

Practicing for the district golf meet Larry Shank winds up to hit the golf ball.

Sophomore Rich Lundgren readies his swing for an upcoming match.

The 1973 golf team sparked by underclassmen held a 3-7 dual record for the season.

Coach Dennis Hanson claimed, "Towards the end of the season the young squad improved greatly." The Monarchs won two of their last three matches.

The highlight of the season was beating Lincoln High by one stroke. Lincoln High went on and finished third in state.

Coach Hanson stated "With four returning lettermen the Papillion golf team should be quite strong next year."

Lettering in varsity this year were Larry Shank, freshman; Brad Ford and Charley Bard, sophomores; Tim Hewett, junior; Mike McAnulty, senior. Student managers for the golf team were Shelly Reissener and Kris Zaloudek.

Thinclads Break School Records

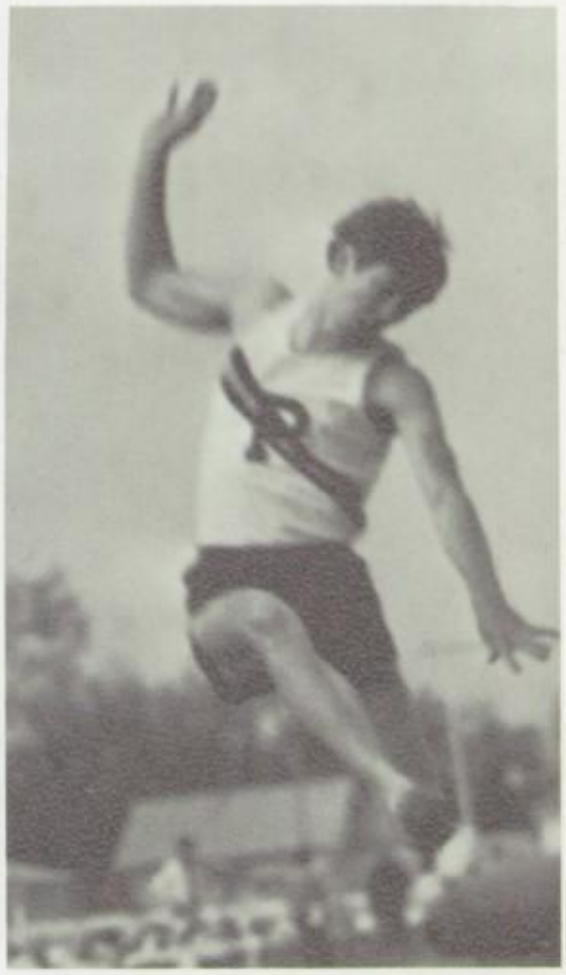
Putting all his strength into throwing the shot, junior Norm Wilcox heaves the shot out to the 51' 1½" mark to earn second place in A-3 District competition.

Breaking school records seemed to be the main goal for the 1973 track team. Holding new school records are: Greg Schack, 58' 4", shot put; Dan Zaloudek, 23'1", long jump, 42'8", triple jump, 22.5, 220 yd. dash; Jim Fahy, 14.7, 120 yd. high hurdles, 19.7, 180 yd. low hurdles, 10.4, 100 yd. dash (tied); Dan Zaloudek, Rich Coover, Norm Wilcox, and Jim Fahy, 1:34.0, 880 yd. relay.

Dan Zaloudek scored 126 points and Jim Fahy scored 116 to earn the honor of the Century 100 Award. Coach Elliott Evans stated "Cancellation of at least three meets because of bad weather cost other atheletes a chance at the honor." Rick Coover was cited for a :16.3 flight in the high hurdles.

Bottom row: M. Plumb, manager, S. Meier, M. Dineen, D. Zaloudek, J. Fahy, G. Timmerman. Second row: B. Gustin, K. Pollard, B. Stover, J. Arrons, R. Coover, Coach Skeet Mahler. Third row: Coach Elliott Evans, S. Haacke, J. Withrow, N. Wilcox, M. Walsh, K. Tusha, Coach Ken Otter. Back row: G. McDowell, J. Miller, D. Rowe, G. Schack, S. Washa, T. Vogt.

Junior Jim Fahy flies over the 180 yd. low hurdles to win his heat in the District A-3 competition. Jim placed third in the meet.



Dan Zaloudek displays the form that earned him first place in districts.

State leader, Greg Schack gives the shot put a hard push to get first place.

Dennis Rahe takes off after receiving the baton from Tim Vogt in the 880 yd. relay.

On their way to state are top: Dan Zaloudek, triple and long jump; Jim Fahy, 180 yd. lows and 120 yd. high hurdles; bottom: Norm Wilcox and Greg Schack, shot put.

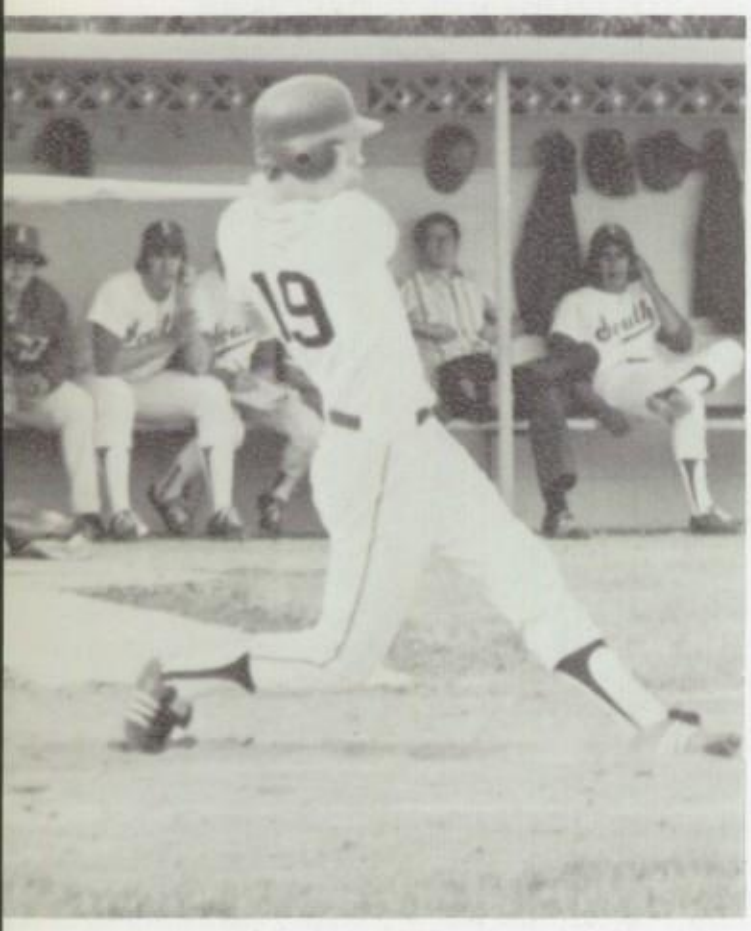
Papillion Nine Reign As District Champs



Gary Shives, pitcher-first baseman, whacks the ball out to right field for a base hit.

Shortstop, Darrell Rahe catches a pop fly in the infield for the third out.

The Varsity baseball squad, under the first year leadership of Coach Bob Rahe, took first place in the District Tournament. Defeating Benson in the first round of the tournament and Burke in the finals was the highlight of the season. Both Benson and Burke were the co-champions of the Metropolitan Conference.

Papillion lost to South 0-1 in eight innings of play of the State Tournament. The varsity ended the season with a 12-5 record.

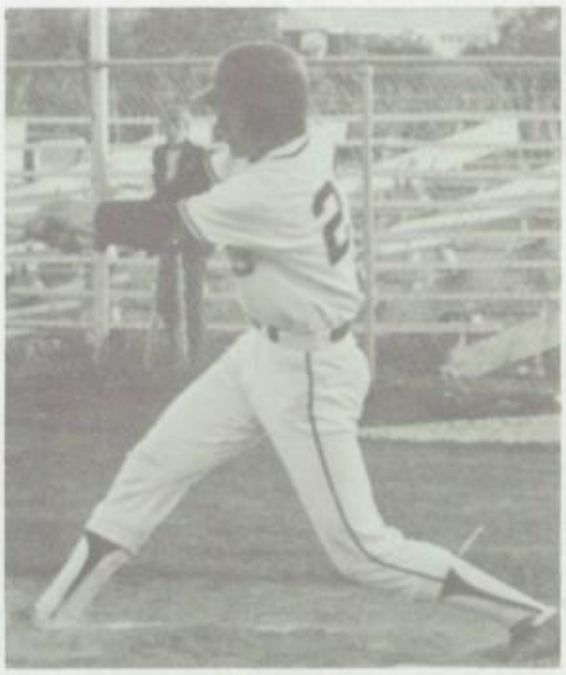
"A disappointing part of the season was losing to the Ralston Rams three times throughout the season," Coach Rahe stated.

Leading the Monarch batting averages was Kirk Eymann, .383; Bob Mohr, .314; Darrell Rahe, .288; and Mike O'Neal, .267.

Eymann led the pitching staff with a 1.19 earned run average, followed by Shives with 1.56.

Senior pitchers, Gary Shives, Bob Mohr, and Kirk Eymann led the Monarchs through the season on the mound. Their records were: Shives, 3-1; Mohr, 2-2; and Eymann, 5-2.

Mike Baker fires the ball to second base to catch the runner stealing.



Hitting the ball out to right field, Randy Wolf tries to hit a Monarch in.

Infielding for the Monarchs for 1973 were: juniors, Bill Dulin, Mark Henkensiefken; seniors, Darrell Rahe, Richard Kimball, and Randy Wolf.

Watching for the signal from Coach Rahe, Rick Alexander prepares to bat.

JV Team Wins All but Last Two

Warming up in the bull pin for a practice game against the varsity, Bud Comer strives for a strike. Comer held a 2-1 record for the 1973 season.

The Papillion Junior Varsity baseball team posted a 6-2 season record for the 1973 season; falling to defeat only in the last two games against Thomas Jefferson. The Monarch batmen were victorious over Murdock, Lincoln Northeast, Omaha Bryan, Millard, and they beat Ralston twice during the season.

"Despite the rainy cold weather during the spring, I think the Junior Varsity team showed strong potential. These guys should be an even stronger team next year as they grow with experience," Coach Gary Thompson stated.

Leading the Monarchs with batting averages were: Doug Thurman with an average of .500; Tony Larry had a batting average of .466; Brad Roberts held a .429 average; and Mike Fantaski held an average of .364. The pitching staff seemed to be well rounded out with Bud Comer (2-1), Mike Zelasney (1-1) and Brad Roberts (2-0).

Freshman Earn Second for Spirit

Locking up the 1972-73 school year are freshmen class officers: Secretary Cathy Evers, President Tracy Harrison, Vice-President Vicki Romsa, and Treasurer Melinda McConnell.

The freshman class under the leadership of Leonard Allgood, sponsor, has been running a close second with the sophomore class in spirit as well as in size. They placed third in the Homecoming display contest with their display entitled "Naturally."

In the spirit week competition, the freshman class earned second place and they received fifteen dollars for class spirit at the pep rally and the general poster contest in the gym.

Their money making project this year was selling suckers through out the school day. The selling of suckers brought in about two hundred and fifty dollars for their class treasury.

Sophomores Earn Top Honors

Leading the class of 1975 are the sophomore class officers; Vice-President Beth Stevenson, Secretary Roxanne Wade, and Treasurer Laurie Walter.

Starting the 1972-73 school year are sophomore class officers, President Kathy Schlimgen, Vice-President Beth Stevenson, Secretary Roxanne Wade, and Treasurer Laurie Walter.

The sophomore class under the leadership of Ronald Withem really got things going for Homecoming with their display theme of "Come Saturday Morning" and "Celebrate." They earned first place and fifteen dollars.

Later on in the year they did it again by earning top honors in the spirit week competition; they received thirty dollars for first place by winning the penny contest, the most words, and the most spirit at the pep rally.

This year was another time to have a money making project; the class decided on selling magazines as a total they earned one thousand two hundred and fifty dollars. The Sophomores voted Cindy Anderson and Gary Timmerman as the most representatives of the Class of '75.

Juniors Strive To Reach Top

Tired of their junior year and anixously awaiting their senior year are 74 class officers; Vice-President Sue Broderick, President John Hughes, Secretary Margie Guerra, and Treasurer Debbie Shives.

Leading the junior class were President John Hughes, Vice-President Sue Broderick, Secretary Margie Guerra, and Treasurer Debbie Shives. John McVicker and Miss Pamela Haviland assisted as class sponsors.

Again as tradition dictates, the juniors sponsored the Junior-Senior Prom; it was held at the Prom Town House with the theme "Butterflies are Free." Music throughout the evening was provided by "Trinity." This year juniors sold $200 worth of flashlights to raise funds for the Prom.

The junior class really got things going for Homecoming with their display theme, "We've only just Begun."

Dave Pratt was chosen to represent Papillion at Boys' State at the University of Nebraska in Lincoln. Kathy Schuring and Kim Pollard were chosen for Girls' State.

There were 44 juniors who participated in carrying out duties for certain county offices, April 17, for which they had been selected.

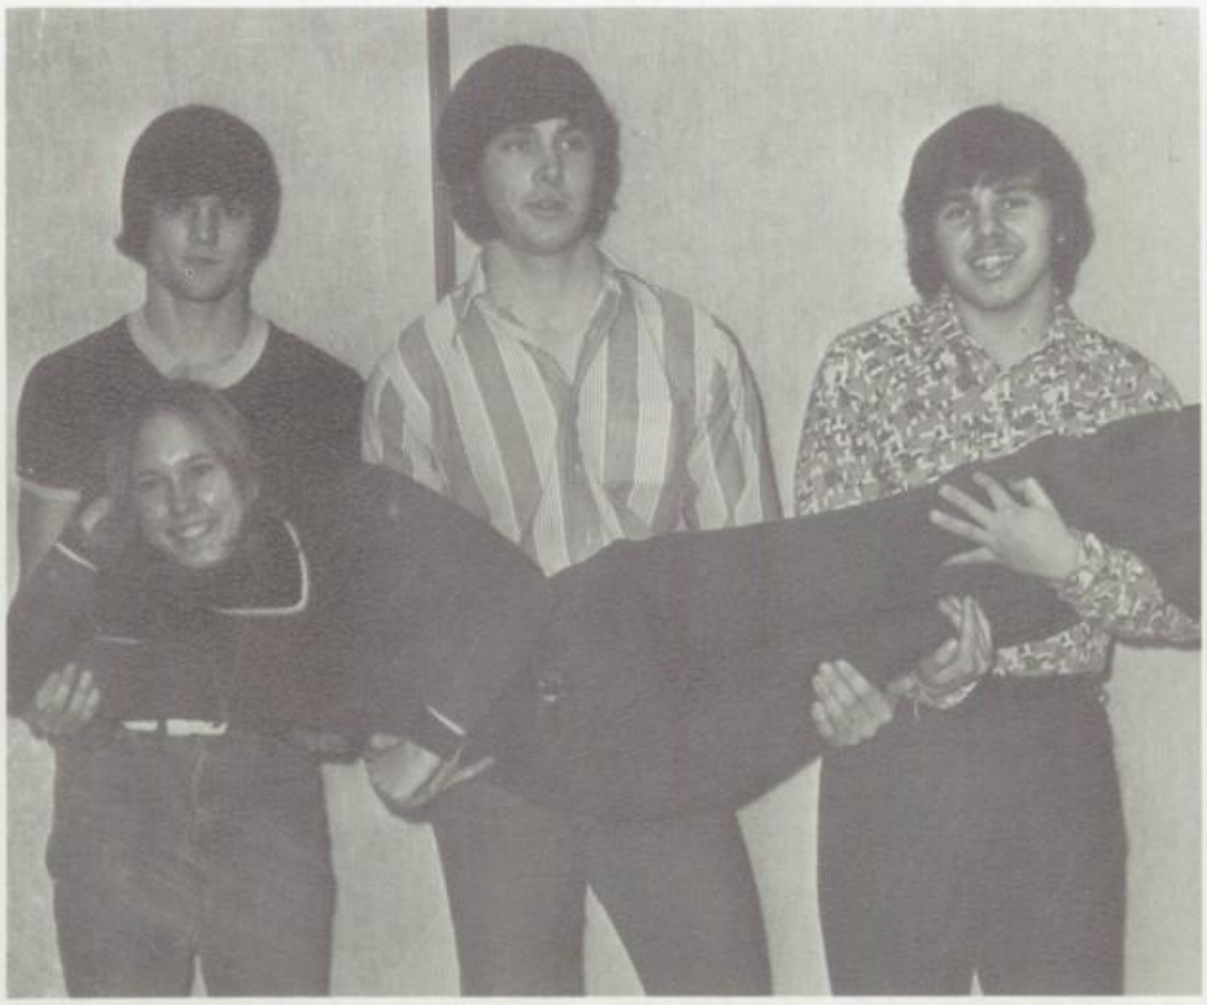
Class of 1973 Sets School Record



Leading the senior class is left to right: Secretary Debbie Lundgren, Vice-president Mike Jones, Treasurer Joe Batson, and President Fred Uhe.

The 1973 class set a record this year, with 26 students receiving 37 scholarships worth a total of $64,160. Never before in PHS history have so many students received scholarships.

The motto, "The goal of yesterday is the starting point of tomorrow," was chosen by a committee of seniors. Class colors were voted on during lunch with regal and princess blue winning. Carnations were chosen as the class flower.

A senior breakfast was held on May 17 and was sponsored by the Home Ec Club. Both teachers and seniors attended.

Wallace Ridenour was the sponsor of the senior class. Most of the senior pictures were taken by Les Hassel. On October 17 Willsie came and took measurements for caps and gowns. And on October 18 Josten's came and presented announcements so that the seniors could order them.

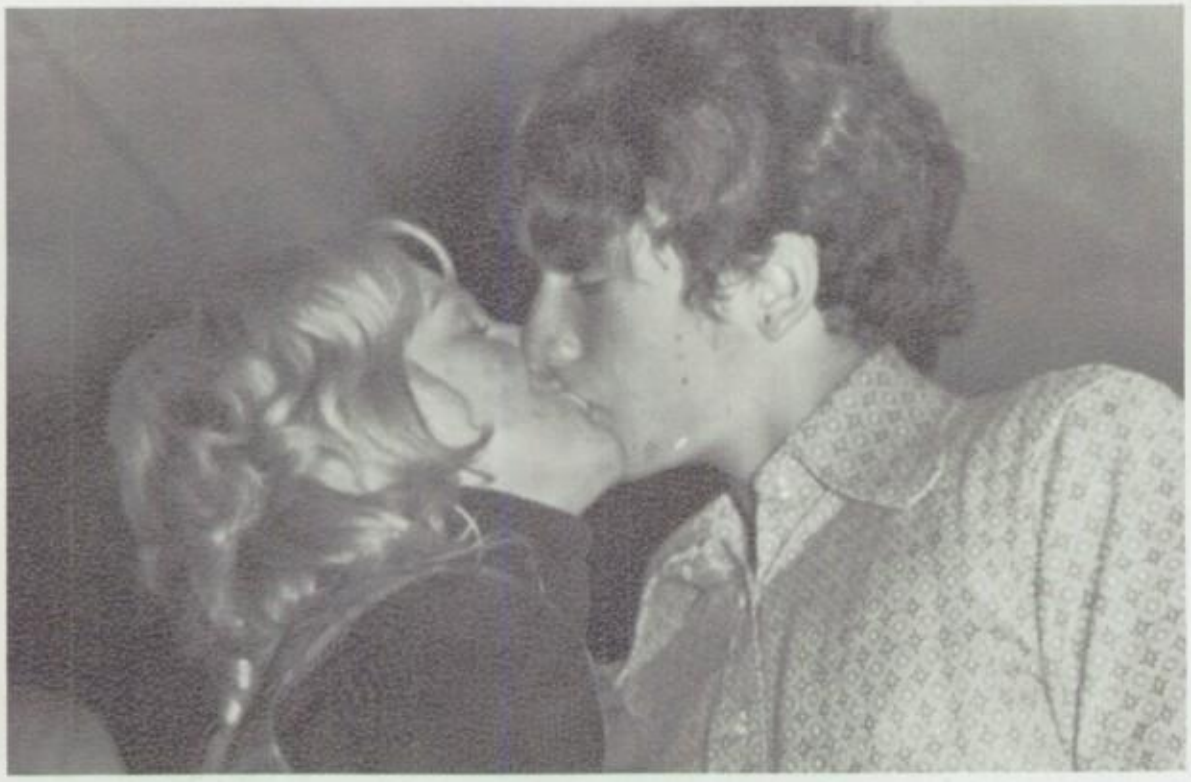
DEBRA TROUTMAN

"Don't I do a great impersonation of Doctor San Guinary," says Kathy Earnest as she entertains a group of senior girls.

Leaning against Greg Schack is Kit Schorey, who needs a little help in catching her breath after that last fast dance.

Debbie Kuehn lets out a big yawn as her busy school day comes to an end at last.

Seniors Find Pleasure, Relaxation



The first symptom of love in a young man is timidity, in a girl it is boldness. The two sexes have a tendency to approach, and each assumes the qualities of the other...Victor Hugo

Don Glendenning relaxes in sociology class, while other students give reports.

Debi Pagett takes a drink of water as she watches the gum float around the drain.

"Hello, operator could you please give me the telephone number of Doctor Dial."

Debbie Fahy spends her free period laying in the pits watching people walk by.

Seniors Eagerly Await Graduation

Parading around the halls in his cap to let everyone know he's graduating is Tim Vogt.

Kathy Earnest finds herself about to be thrown in the pits by Mindy Reissener, Sheryl Ulrich, Gina Offenstine, Debbie Kuehn, and Becky Swarbrick.
